Herzing petitions challenged

An election challenge has been filed by incumbent Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk against Willard Herzing, one of the candidates in the April election for the Third Ward aldermanic seat being vacated by the retirement of Alderman Roy Podis.

A public hearing on the challenge will be held at 1:30 p.m. today in the Madison County clerk's office in the county courthouse at Edwardsville. At the hearing, the city's elections board will sit. Fisk's contention is that some of the signatures on Herzing's petition are not the signatures of registered voters in that ward.

The city elections board is made up of the mayor as chairman and the city clerk and the council's senior alderman, Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward.

Fisk is a holdover member of the council and will not face re-election for two more years, but should he file for re-election, his petition should be challenged because numerous names on the petition are not on the latest available voter registration list supplied by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles. That list was released Oct. 22, 1980, and is due to the November general election.

Fisk said he filed the objection as a citizen after he found 57 signatures on Herzing's petition which were not on the registration list. If it is discovered that the 57 have not registered since the October list was prepared, "it would cut Mr. Herzing to about half of the number

GC insurance study sought

A better fire rating for Granite City, which could provide lower fire insurance premiums for all city residents, is the goal of a classification survey the Insurance Service Office of Illinois (ISO), Chicago, has agreed to conduct in the near future.

The Granite City Council was told Tuesday night in a letter from Mayor L. Austin, supervisor of public protection for the ISO, that a request by the city for a new classification study has been considered and granted, based upon improvements in the fire department, new fire fighting equipment, additional fire hydrants and an updated electrical code and inspection program.

The ISO agrees that the changes "are sufficient in scope to warrant a review evaluation survey by this office," Austin said in the letter.

The survey will be conducted to have listed the city for an early survey, which will be conducted as soon as our present work schedule will permit."

Austin requested that city personnel complete enclosed information sheets and sophomore related to fire improvements in the city to assist the inspectors when they arrive in Granite City for their survey.

"The purpose of this visit is to gather information needed to determine a fire classification which may be used to determine fire insurance rates. It is not for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations will be made," the letter explained.

The survey was granted in response to a Jan. 14 letter from Mayor Paul Schuler to Austin, detailing improvements the city has made in recent years, including actions taken to comply with the recommendations the ISO made in March 1977.

Improvements such as time, action and equipment for the replacement of the 1954 and 1964 pumper with a new tele-squirt truck, a survey of the fire department which resulted in the city's Class 6 insurance rating being kept.

Six men have been added to the fire department work force since March, enabling the city to have 12 men on duty, plus shift commanders, at all times.

Three new pumper, the tele-squirt truck and the aerial truck have replaced two older pumper and the city now has four engine companies with two ladder companies, complying with the 1977 recommendations of the ISO.

Training for firemen has been updated and daily records of training and record keeping suggested in 1977 are being complied with.

The city's building inspection program has been improved in line with the ISO's recommendations and the city's electrical code is in the process of being updated.

An ordinance also has been approved defining the limits of the fire district, Schulz's request for re-evaluation explained.

Nameoki tap-on fund at issue

Pontoon Beach officials are angry over the sudden decision of Nameoki Township to withdraw from the tap-on financial aid package and are attempting to formulate a village program before the new sewers are opened to residents.

Last week, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis told the Pontoon Beach Board of Education he would contribute up to $300 to qualifying low-income families to help pay for their sewer tap-ons, under a $40,000 program financed by a Community Development grant.

However, Davis contended, there is not enough money for all of the area, so Pontoon Beach has been excluded, because the village could have applied for its own grant, but failed to do so.

Pontoon Beach Village Board President Paul Bennett said he met informally with several of the village early during the weekend and said most were "furious" with the Davis' announcement.

Bennett said the township obtained the money by transferring it from a grant for housing rehabilitation projects township-wide, including Pontoon Beach. Since the village was in the original housing rehabilitation grant, Bennett feels the village should be included in the tap-on program, since it is using the same money.

"That money was obtained in the 1975-76 fiscal year under (former supervisor) Louis Whitsell for the whole township, including Pontoon Beach," Pontoon Beach helped elect him. "Our feeling was we are entitled to and should be included in the tap-on package."

He noted that Pontoon Beach has about 60 percent of the housing units in the township. To exclude the village would be to exclude approximately 10 percent of the township.

Because of the unexpected action of the township, the village board is attempting to obtain its own grant funds for sewer tap-on aid, but Bennett said it does not appear that the village can obtain funds for the new tap-on program.

He noted it is possible the village can borrow from a bank now and repay the money when the grant funds are received, but the village then would have to pay interest on the funds used for the sewer tap-on program.

"I met with Cheryl Jouette of the Community Development office and she said we have $37,000 in Community development funds reserved for our proposed community center. Since that is only a drop in the bucket of what we want, I have asked her to request a transfer of the money for sewer hookups," Bennett explained.

"However," he added, "that money will not be available until next fall. All of our previous allocations were used in the three years since reworking the program which was completed."

He said the village board will meet Tuesday, Feb. 10, to discuss the issue and determine whether the village should borrow to establish a program similar to Nameoki Township or should attempt to force the township to

Pre-Coat to use new county sewer

BULLETIN

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has called for a special meeting of the county board at 9 a.m. Tuesday to ratify the sewer rate agreement which was approved by the Granite City Council last night.

By GARY SCHNEIDER

With agreement very close between the county and Granite City on sewage treatment rates, Pre-Coat Metals may "jump the gun" today by opening its sanitary and boiler waste sewers into the county sewers, whether or not the sewers are ready to begin receiving discharges.

A spokesman for the new Pre-Coat Metals plant on Route 3 north of Pontoon Road, said yesterday that the company intends to "pull the plug" in its sewers today, whether or not it receives a green light from the county.

The county says two necessary sewage stations are frozen and probably cannot be operational by today.

A letter sent to Roy C. Werner of Pre-

Coat to Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and Mayor, Paul Schuler this week indicated the company originally intended to begin treating the new wastes yesterday.

The letter stated, "In accordance with your March 11, 1980, letter, assuring us of sewer service by December, 1980, we have obtained all of our permits and are in need of sewage disposal. For the next several months, we will be using private sewage, but believe and consider sewage only."

"We expect to remove the plug in our sewer connection on Feb. 4 and be on the sewer line then," Werner's letter concluded. Later, officials changed the date to today.

Spokesmen for the county sewer district said they would not turn on the pumps and lift station through which the wastes would have to pass, even if they were operational, until they got a green light from Hagnauer. Hagnauer indicated he may need action by the Madison County Board before he can sign an agreement allowing the sewers to be used.

May avoid auto inspections

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Mandatory vehicle inspections—opposed by most Illinois citizens and legislators—may be avoided, Jim Maloney told a breakfast gathering here Wednesday. He is assistant to the manager of the Division of Air Pollution Control of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

With Congress preparing to extend the Clean Air Act, the Illinois EPA is urging that the federal government make car pollution inspections and repairs voluntary rather than mandatory.

Urban real estate seminar Feb. 20

The Center of Urban and Environmental Research and Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (CUERS) will offer a seminar on "Urban Real Estate: Financial Feasibility of Retail Specialty Center," Friday, Feb. 20. The registration deadline is Feb. 9.

The one-day seminar will be held at the Main Dogwood Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Registration is $20.

The seminar is the second in a series of sessions offered to the public on issues in urban properties, according to Robert Mendelson, associate professor of research in CUERS.

Speakers for the seminar will be Barnett B. Beliner, an architect, developer, and investor as well as a lessee in Boston's Faneuil Hall's Marketplace, a waterfront redevelopment project.

The Greek Revival-styled Quincy market building, flanked by its two granite buildings, stretching out behind the historic Faneuil Hall, make up the marketplace. The renovation project was to bring commercial activity to the area following years of neglect and decay. Faneuil Hall Marketplace is made up of specialty shops and offices, along with a multitude of "sidewalk" businesses and activities.

In his presentations, Berliner will discuss the business transactions of the marketplace renovation, explaining the characteristics of success which can be applied in other such restoration projects.

A portion of the seminar will also be devoted to an examination of Crimson Gardner, a shopping center located near Harvard Square in Cambridge, Mass. The third seminar in the series, tentatively planned for May 6, will focus on the federal tax impact on urban real estate decisions. Instructor for the seminar will be Gaylon Greer, a professor of finance at De Paul University.

Additional information and registration may be obtained by contacting Robert Mendelson, 451-7560, or SUUE Hallmark Cards Inc. or Environmental Research and Services by telephoning (618) 692-3032 on or before Feb. 9.

Labor to interview candidates on 2 days

Pop-pretzel concert at North

The cafeteria at Granite City High School, above, will provide an informal setting next Monday night for the North High Concert Band's 8th annual Pop and Pretzel Concert.

The concert, which has increased in popularity each year, will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 9, by the 45-member Concert Band under the direction of Robert D. Todoroff.

A variety of Broadway musicals, plus a classic section of popular music which has ensured the "test of time and audience appeal" will be offered, Todoroff advised.

Featured on the program will be a special performance by the Steel City Belles Pomp Squad.

Squad members also will serve as hostesses for the evening, serving sodas and pretzels to the audience.

Included on the program are: "Highlights From Pin," arranged by J.

Caecava; "Symphonic Suite from 'Shogun'" by Maurice Jarre; "Ain't Misbehavin'," the music of Fats Waller, arranged by Richard Maltby; "23 Skidoo" by Kenneth Whitehead.

"Gentlemen from the Greek" by M. Theodorakis; Selections from the Tony Award winning music "Fame," arranged by R.

Lowden; "Spanish Fever" as recorded by the Fania All-Stars, arranged by J. Minkin; "The Finale from 'The Empire Strikes Back'" by John Williams.

Admission to the hour-long concert is by season ticket, or with single admission tickets available at the door. The cost is $10 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Arrangements for the concert are under the auspices of the North High School Band Parents Association, headed by Donald Wilson, president.

'Gentlemen of Verona' updated

The time is 1960, the place is the U.S.A., and the situation is that young men leaving home and family in search of their pot of gold. The original Shakespeare version of "Two Gentlemen of Verona" bears a similar story line but the student production at SJUE is a modernized version.

"Two Gentlemen of Verona" will run for two consecutive weekends, Feb. 20 and 21, and 26 and 27 and 28. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Free parking is available directly behind the building on the nights of the performances.

Cast members include Granite Cityans Mark Belleville and Rebecca Vartan and Madisonian Alvin Thompson.

A slide presentation will introduce potential participants to the tour itinerary at 7 p.m. Feb. 10 at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Study tour to include France

Belleville Area College students of all ages will have an opportunity to study in Europe this summer on a study tour of France, England and Scotland May 27 through June 7.

Students will earn three hours of college credit while exploring the three countries under the leadership of BC history instructor Jack Haskell.

A slide presentation will introduce potential participants to the tour itinerary at 7 p.m. Feb. 10 at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Persons of all ages have gone on tours conducted by the college and led by Haskell for the past 10 years. This is the first year that the tour will include Scotland. The group will leave from St. Louis' Lambert Airport.

Disguised as boys, they travel to the city to reclaim their men. Romance and a comedy of errors ensue.

"The charade is done against the backdrop of the '60s," Lynn Kluth, professor of theater and dance at the university, said. "It is a dynamite and enthused rendition."

The play begins with two students leaving their home and family in search of their pot of gold. The original Shakespeare version of "Two Gentlemen of Verona" bears a similar story line but the student production at SJUE is a modernized version.

"Two Gentlemen of Verona" will run for two consecutive weekends, Feb. 20 and 21, and 26 and 27. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Free parking is available directly behind the building on the nights of the performances.

Cast members include Granite Cityans Mark Belleville and Rebecca Vartan and Madisonian Alvin Thompson.

ship supervisors and county board members in the three counties, he related; their opinions along with the views of citizens will be forwarded by the state to the U. S. agency.

Larry Dew presided at the meeting and Illinois Power Co. was the host. Maloney said a new air sampling program announced this week by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency is intended to compare pollution levels and their impact on health.

Cities chosen are Granite City, Houston, Cleveland, Owensboro, Ky., Tampa, Fla., and Bakersfield and Riverside, Calif. The agency said Monday it will spend $355,764 on the seven-city program. The contract went to Rockwell International Corp. of Newbury Park, Calif.

The speaker also reviewed the plan under which Monroe County and surrounding areas of the St. Louis area may be changed from Class 2 to Class 3 designation as a way of attracting additional industrial jobs. A hearing is set for March 2 in Collinsville.

The EPA said Monday it will offer new pollution thresholds for the elimination of existing pollution, he said, adding that small firms with limited air pollution can be accommodated without the offset procedure.

There is no significant sulfur dioxide pollution in Madison County except in the area of oil refineries, it was noted.

He emphasized that regular monitoring occurs and that when particulates are no longer a problem here there will be "a joyous celebration" announced by the state EPA.

The speaker reported dramatic progress in some communities and slower gains elsewhere in pursuing the ideal of air purity.

Questions brought out the importance of oil roads and dirt roads to reduce the amount of "fugitive dust" in the air. It was related that Illinois regulations in most instances no longer exceed the severity of federal air quality guidelines, but its state-level implementation policy fills 1,800 pages in eight books.

Wind and weather were described as having a major effect on the degree to which automobile exhaust is troublesome in a community.

Paula Case, Granite City air quality official, said the favorable trend here over the past ten years except for a special pollution problem encountered last year.

Maloney said timetables are adjusted based on each year's statistics, and that major milestones in achieving air quality standards are projected for the local area during the 1980s.

Sulfur dioxide solutions are possible by the end of 1982, ozone and carbon monoxide remedies by 1986 or 1987, and particulate achievements by the late 1980s. It was related that the amount of air improvement credits continues, their impact is reduced as new quality minimums go into effect in various air categories, Maloney reported.

School lunch price

timing, it was noted at Tuesday night's meeting.

Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, reported that "in the Federal Register of Jan. 13, the BOMA published revised income poverty guidelines which are to be adopted in operation during the current school year."

"This is the first time in the 12-year history of the program that a change has been made. Previously, the income guidelines have been published in July and have been in effect for the following year without change."

"These are the income levels for families of different sizes which make them eligible, on application, for free or reduced price lunch programs. The regulations require that schools either re-determine eligibility for all applications presently on file, or go through the entire application process again. Repeating the process would mean sending explanatory letters and applications to every student whom we did when school started."

"We will follow re-determination for the approximately 1,200 applications presently on file. This will be the least.

time-consuming of the two methods, and more orderly," Rea related.

"Compliance dates specified within the regulations are based on notification date by state. The determination must be completed within 30 days, implementation within 45 days after state notification, and parents must be given written notice 10 days prior to any change."

"It seems advisable that we proceed with the re-determination initially so that changes can be made when the ticket cycle begins Feb. 2 is over."

"The intent of the changes is to eliminate the 'hardship' category of eligibility which allowed an adjustment to be applied to family income."

"Adjustments were allowed in, in reduced price lunch rates, medical costs, excessive shelter costs, special education expense of handicapped children, and disaster or casualty losses."

"Families who were approved for free or reduced lunch rates this previous year will be terminated completely from the program."

"Normally, when such regulation changes are made, publication is followed by a 30-day period for comment, after which the changes take effect. This is not followed when an emergency exists and the change is classified as 'not significant.' This change was so classified, and is simply another in the series of such steps taken recently by the Department of Agriculture.

These changes seem to indicate a desire to meet problems imposed on school districts, and an abuse of administrative authority, at least in my opinion," Rea said.

"In the same Federal Register, notice was given that the commodity rate per meal—donated foods or cash in lieu thereof—had been reduced for the 1980-81 school year. The last summer for the period of July 1, 1980, through June 30, 1981, all 15½ cents has been reduced two cents to 13½ cents effective Jan. 1, 1981.

"While these changes may be 'not significant' to the Department of Agriculture, the cumulative effect on school districts conducting on-going programs is quite significant."

School busing bill will be back this year

SPRINGFIELD — The controversial private school busing bill, struck down by Gov. James Thompson just before the end of the last legislative session in early January, is apparently going to be making a return appearance to the 1981 session of the General Assembly.

Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, R-Zion, said she will introduce again legislation to permit private school students to ride public school buses in the state.

Though the bill was introduced in early January, it did not pass the Senate because of a tie vote. The Senate was deadlocked 21-21.

The bill would have provided free transportation to students outside Chicago, who live at least 15 miles from school. The state would fully reimburse the public school districts for the program costs.

The bill had been opposed by local public school districts, the state Board of Education, and a number of educators' groups.

After Thompson's veto, Geo-Karis filed a motion to override, but withdrew it because "there were not sufficient votes in the House to win the battle."

Geo-Karis challenged cost estimates used by opponents to support their arguments that the state cannot afford the busing bill, calling them "scare tactics" and "way out of line."

Actually, she said, the bill would save money overall.

At the time of the veto, speakers from the Senate floor, Geo-Karis said she wanted to "send a message to the Illinois Education Association (the statewide teachers union) and public school administrators that we will prevail in this fight. The cause is right for two very important reasons. First, the safety of children who are forced to walk to private schools, sometimes under dangerous circumstances. Second, parents whose children are enrolled in private schools pay taxes for the public schools. It makes absolutely no sense to have three or four school systems on the same streets and highways each day transporting students to various schools."

The legislation, she said, contains numerous restrictions to reassure critics that the action would not lead to an escalation of private school enrollment.

"I think I'm not a Roman Catholic. I don't think we should discriminate in the transportation of school children. Public and private schools have to coexist and this would substantially enhance the effort."

Novel experience
upset novelist author

Theodore Dreiser's first novel, "Sister Carrie," was published in August 1900. Only 1,000 copies were printed before the nervous publisher, Doubleday and Co., worried about the story's immorality and took the book off the stands.

Dreiser was so upset he couldn't write another novel for 10 years, but he eventually became famous.

Honor firemen for attendance

Granite City firemen who have achieved perfect attendance were named at Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting and were commended by the aldermen for their dedication to the department.

According to Fire Chief Don Parente, 24 fire and ambulance personnel had perfect attendance records in 1980 and nine have more than one consecutive year of perfect attendance.

Alderman Sam Sprankle of the Fourth Ward stated at the council meeting, "I think they should be commended," and Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward added, "Especially the ones like Marcum. That man needs more employees like him."

Alderman Everett Morlen of the First Ward noted that similar attendance records have been achieved by members of the police department. That list was previously published in the Press-Record.

New subdivision sewers approved

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has given the go-ahead to constructing sanitary sewers to serve about 40 homes to be built in the "hobo jungle" area north of Colgate Place and Yale Drive.

The city council was informed of the EPA approval Tuesday night.

SGB Development (Herman Schroeder, Bud Gossen and Earl Buenger) will construct the new sanitary sewers, which were proposed in 1978 but alternate drainage plans already were under consideration, according to City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

The homes will be constructed, starting this spring, along the northern extensions of East Colgate and an extension of Winter Park Lane. Homes to be constructed will be of the general character of the existing homes on those streets according to a city spokesman.

The homes are being built in the area which had been considered for a retention pond, to hold water from the Briarcliff area. Residents of homes surrounding the area object to a plan for the holding pond and the city subsequently put the plans "on the back burner."

The effect of constructing the additional 40 homes in the area on the city's drainage system was considered but alternate drainage plans already were under consideration, according to City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

No one was injured Wednesday in an early morning fire, which virtually destroyed a two-family frame dwelling at 11 Hill St., in Eagle Park.

Firemen arrived at the scene at 12:06 a.m. Wednesday and remained there for several hours.

Mrs. Frankie Williams and her family, who occupied the house, escaped without injury.

It is believed the fire started in the basement area which was totally gutted.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Damage to the house is estimated at $25,000 and a $7,000 loss is listed to the contents.

Madison Fire Department personnel assisted the Venice firemen in fighting the blaze.

Delay girls' soccer as high school sport

Granite City schools are interested in establishing girls' soccer as a high school varsity sport, but will delay it until the fall of 1982 due to an absence of teams in other districts during the 1981-82 year.

A report to the Board of Education on Tuesday night noted that 49 schools within an Illinois radius of 100 miles of Granite City were contacted and 40 responded.

Thirty-nine schools are interested in participating in it as an interscholastic sport.

Of the other nine, Granite City South and Granite City North voiced interest in starting a girls' soccer team but fall will not do so due to the lack of competition from outside the local community.

Seven schools remain interested in girls' soccer and may consider implementing it after, but not during the 1981-82 school year. They are Mascoutah, Roxana, Springfield Southeast, Belleville Althoff, Highland St. Paul, Jersey Community and Wood River East Alton.

Joseph S. Fedora, administrative assistant for athletics and physical education in the Granite City district, told the school board that the schools are interested in implementing girls' soccer for the fall of 1982, we have found that surrounding area schools are not prepared to implement the program this coming year. But there are important reasons for not implementing the program for the fall of 1982.

"The Athletic Council has reassessed our previous position relative to phasing out field hockey at the conclusion of the 1980 season. We still believe previous recommendations for the fall of 1982 are valid.

"We have prepared for phase-out during this year. We did not play a junior varsity schedule, and have indicated we will not do so for 1982.

"We have not provided budgetary funding for field hockey equipment, and have made tentative plans to purchase a set of aluminum soccer goals for each school, at an approximate cost of $950 per set.

"Only 24 Illinois schools will be playing field hockey in 1981, with Edwardsville being the only school south of Cook County.

The Madison Lions and their guests were served a steady meal prepared by Lions Donald Bridick and Matt Ozanich.

Official guest greeters for the evening were Building Committee Chairman Travis Rash and Lion Jim Miller Jr.

ARREST AFTER CRASH
Sammy L. Robinson, 38, of 2618 Sheridan Ave., was charged with driving under the influence and leaving an accident scene at 10:45 p.m. Wednesday on Nameoki Road at East 28th Street. His northbound car is alleged to have turned left in front of the southbound auto of Donald Lujke, Belleville.

VAN STEREO TAKEN
The parked 1979 van of Howard Thebeau, 2656 E. 28th St., was looted Wednesday evening on a tavern parking lot at 2601 Edwardsville. The burglar shattered a window to gain entry and damaged the interior in taking a $200 eight-track stereo unit. A $25 softball glove also was stolen.

The new agreement finalizes the treatment rate which will be charged residential users at $1.80 per month and final computational fees being done to timely start industrial treatment rates which will be in line with what the city charges industries.

Present at the meetings in Edwardsville where the agreement was "hashed out" Tuesday were City Attorney John P. Pyle, State's Attorney John E. Capo Ranga, Sewer Committee Chairman Louis Whitsell and committee member Morris Miles. That meeting broke up about 5:30 p.m.

Miles, who also attended the 8 p.m. Tuesday city council meeting, commented after passage of the treatment rate, "It's a good deal."

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, who had stalled settlement of the treatment rate issue in the past because he felt a written agreement was needed, said after Pyle read the proposed agreement, "I believe everything is there that the council wanted."

The agreement requires that the city and the county agree on a specialist to conduct a new treatment rate study each two years, "as the parties deem necessary."

Pyle also said the county has agreed to adopt the city's exact rates for industrial users of the new county sewers, including Pre-Coat Metals.

Hagnauer told the Press-Record yesterday that he was in agreement with the opinion from Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeki" Smith on whether he could sign the new agreement immediately, or whether action by the courtney. If they freeze up the big screw pumps and break it, the county might end up owning a plant, because the cost is worth almost as much as that plant."

Futch said that even if Hagnauer signs the agreement, he does not believe the sewers can be operating before about Monday. The number three lift station needs the ice chipped out of it to operate and the large screw lift station needs a part which is being flown in from Canada. There is a slight chance both pumps could be operating sometime today, Futch said, but he doubted it.

Tarps also must be purchased to cover the screw pumps and a heater may have to be placed inside the pump to keep the clear water from the winter water from freezing the screw pump he indicated.

"Without those pumps, if Pre-Coat turns on its sewers, we could have a spillage and the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) would not appreciate it," Futch said. "In addition, that flooding a field would just make it more difficult for equipment to get to the pumps to get them operational."

He said Pre-Coat must apply to him for a permit to use the new sewers and must pay a $50 industrial service fee. "The cost is probably to be at all times, but they do not have a permit," Futch said.

He also said he would like to begin operating the sewers. "I'm ready to go, but the pumps aren't. There is nothing I would rather do, but I don't want to flood the ground without those pumps," he concluded.

Herzing petitions

In another election-related matter, Stevens has announced that a lottery will be conducted in his office at 2 p.m. Monday to determine placement on the April 11 list of all candidates who filed at 8 a.m. Jan. 19, the first minute of candidate filing.

In the new state law, a lottery must be held among all opponents in the various races who filed in time to file at 8 a.m. on the first minute of filing.

Herzing's candidates will be held in the Sixth Ward. The first will be determined by a drawing to be held at 8 a.m. Jan. 19 and will draw for the top ballot slot. Daniel Fawley filed his petition later in the morning and will appear third on the ballot.

A drawing also will be held to determine ballot position among three candidates in the First Ward—incumbent Charles Douglas, former alderman William Dallas St. and Leroy Mangiaracina. Cander Smith filed later and will be listed last.

In the Fourth Ward, incumbent Glen Sprankle and challengers Sharon Perjak and John Zivkovich will be listed first. Ron Smith filed later and his name will appear last.

In the Seventh Ward, incumbent Paul Ray Bowler and Michael Werths filed simultaneously the first day and a drawing will determine which will be listed first. Ron Markarian filed later and will be third on the ballot.

Feb. 14 dance at Amvets 51

Amvets Post 51 will hold a Valentine Dance on Saturday, Feb. 14. It is announced today by Commander Kenneth Seibert. Music for dancing will start at 9 p.m.

Plans for the event, which is open to all Amvets and their guests, were made at last week's meeting of Post 51.

The dance will take place in the service club's recently completed hall, which is in addition to the post home at 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Tickets will cost $2.50 per person and may be obtained at the door.

A cash bar will be operated and other refreshments also may be purchased, Seibert said.

CANCEL MEETINGS

The regularly scheduled February meetings of the Granite City Board of Education and the Plan Commission have been cancelled due to a lack of business, according to William Dallas Jr., secretary of the two boards. The Board of Appeals was to meet Wednesday, Feb. 11, and the Plan Commission was scheduled for the following day, Feb. 12. Dallas will announce the dates and times for the next meetings.

Madison annexes 30 1/2-acre tract

By LISA LUTZ
for the Press-Record

The City of Madison is expanding. At the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night, the council agreed to annex 30 1/2 acres of industrial property.

The expansion begins near the south end of Washington Avenue, between the railroad tracks and the Madison-Venice city line. In addition to providing police and fire protection, the city also will blacktop a road near the property.

The road is one of the few in Madison that is not blacktopped. Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "I'm lenient on this annexation, because this will be beneficial to our city." The property has been rezoned and the city will benefit through tax revenues.

The Kerr-McGee Chemical Corporation owns 26.35 acres of the land and a 3.80-acre tract belongs to Laclede Steel.

In other business, the council commanded the Illinois-American Water Company for its cooperation with the city in repairing problem areas in the streets of Madison. Earlier, the council had criticized rough repairs to the streets after excavations were completed.

The aldermen accepted a $15,600 grant to be used to support Coordinated Youth Services activities in Madison.

New floor in theater among building permits

With winter coming, a traditional slowdown in the construction business in this area and construction permits in January reflected that slowdown.

Granite City issued only 11 building permits last month for work costing an estimated $97,517.

The largest single project was installing a new floor in the Washington Theater, 1320 Washington St., at a cost of $10,000. A permit also was granted to Westview Management for replacing exterior doors at the Parkside Apartments at a cost of $2,000.

One new $20,000 residence is to be built at 2903 Buxton Ave., by Simpson Construction Co., the permits show.

Other permits were granted to:

Calvin Hiltner, 2309 Delmar, roof, softi and siding, $3,100; Mel Perkins, 1707 Delmar, storage shed, $250; Higgin's Laundry, 220 Beaufort, roof, $1,000.

Permits for new structures also were issued to William Ellsworth for the top story of 2433 E. 24th St., and to Chester Jones to raze a building at 2117 Ohio, a cost of $300.

William Cagle, 2121 Ohio, repair mobile home, $4,000; Zane Zimmerman, 3221 Wayne, siding, $3,980; Leimer & Goodman, 1733 Edison, remodel and repair, $1,000; Paul Randall, 245 State, siding, $3,700; Koi Jakusom, 2614 Iowa, remodeling, $10,000; Richard Oram, 2004 Wilson roof, $1,500; Howard Jungles, 2626 Pontiac, garage, $800; Paul Schellenbeger, 3422 Cleveland, repair fire damage, $8,000; and Gilbert Carrigalls, 2104 Nameoki, siding, roofing and

Open South high for 8th graders, parents

Going to high school for the first time can be a frustrating and frightening experience, particularly for new students unfamiliar with the school.

To avoid that, Granite City High School South is planning a night of orientation Monday for eighth grade students who will attend South this fall.

The general session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium, followed by sessions in one of three departments. The students and parents can choose which department they wish to visit.

Administrators, counselors and department chairmen will be available to discuss the various topics of study and to answer questions about the school and its curriculum.

Seek year's delay on further state tax cuts

In his annual "state of the nation" address to legislators Tuesday, Governor James R. Thompson said, "The costs of inflation, rising welfare rolls and tax relief measures already on our books will dictate a minimum demand for $600 million in new spending next year — $200 million more, than the new revenues we expect."

"We need to form a cause to make the case for the special attention in national economic and tax policy that may be paid to the special problems of our aging and neglected industrial base."

"That $600 million demand is a bare minimum."

"It assumes, for example, that we can hold aggregate executive department operating costs to no more than five percent growth or less than half the rate of inflation — which my budget will propose we do."

"It also assumes that new spending for all of education can be held to that same five percent growth level while we are able to meet the combined requests for new funds by the Boards of Education and Higher Education in half," the governor said.

"It makes no sense to build new plants where new roads, sewers, power lines and transportation systems will have to be built, too."

"We need targeted tax policies to make it pay for outdated factories to be modernized, rather than abandoned in favor of a move to warmer, cheaper climates."

"It makes no sense to build new plants where new roads, sewers, power lines and transportation systems will have to be built, too."

"We need to focus economic policy on the need to develop capital to underwrite plant modernization and expansion."

"We need deep cuts in the red tape that ties the hands of our industries to the strong right arm of the federal and state bureaucracies."

"We need to strike the rational balance our political leaders keep talking about between the ideals of a perfect environment and the realities of our industrial society so we can get maximum use out of the ground and into our economy."

"Most of all, we need to put an end to the elitist, just plain rich kind of thinking that's become so prevalent in Washington that is less than President Carter's Commission on a National Agenda for the Eighties has formally endorsed it."

"We also may have to consider deferring, for another year, the removal of the third penny from the statewide sales tax on food and drugs."

"That would avert the loss of $40 million in revenues during the first six months of calendar year 1982, but still leave $225 million in tax relief in the pockets of the people during fiscal year 1982."

"As chairman of the Midwest Governors' Conference this year, I intend to see to it that the voices of Illinois and our hard-pressed neighbors are heard loudly and clearly."

"We need to form a cause to make the case for the special attention in national economic and tax policy that may be paid to the special problems of our aging and neglected industrial base."

"And that's the kind of thinking that says we should concentrate instead on high technology, leaving it to other nations to tell us when it's all right to build a ship or a plane."

"I like Arizona, but I don't want to live there. And more than eleven million people don't want to live there — they want to live in an Illinois that's got its fair share."

"It's proud that we have operated state government over the past four years as though the ceilings on taxes and spending, that I have several times proposed, had been lifted," Thompson commented.

"This has meant keeping spending growth and taxes below the rate of inflation, and below the rate of growth in the people's incomes, just as effective ceilings would demand."

"It has meant making more sense out of the dollars we have to spend — as we have done through the good work of the state legislature, whose good ideas have already made more than a $400 million difference in the bottom line of the ways we do the people's business."

"It has helped us to retain our Triple A bond rating, something only two other large industrial states can boast."

"And it has given us the right to boast — a few, at any, other states can boast — that our state's government is running better and costing relatively less than it was four years ago today."

"I'm fiercely proud of that record. You should be, too."

"I also fiercely oppose any new tax, any pressure, any attempt to tax or spend it away. And so should you," he concluded.

CPR class for Troop 96

Fourteen scouts and five adults from Boy Scout Troop 96, sponsored by Maryville School PTA, completed a three-hour course in cardiopulmonary resuscitation Monday evening.

The course was conducted at Maryville School in cooperation with the Illinois Health Association.

Instructors were Len Lymburn, Ruth Noeth and Glenda Moore.

Boy scouts attaining certificates were Darrell Young, David Maxwell, Kevin Haddock, Mike

Votoupal, Mike Charbonnier, Jon Morgan, Eddie Melton, James Wright, Scott Wilson, Craig Glasgow, Dion Hull, John Hensel, Jeff Izenburg and David Allen.

Adults achieving certificates were Harold Wright, Bob and Ruth Young and Bud and Charlotte Charbonnier.

Participants included Senior Patrol Leader Darrell Young to participate in Citizenship Day, Thursday, Feb. 12.

It was announced Troop 96 will sponsor a chili supper, viewed the pageant last night, the director said.

The public is invited to attend. An admittance fee of $1.50 for adults and $1 for children will be charged.

In addition to twirlers from the Quad-Cities and the St. Louis metropolitan region, competitors from Southern Illinois University.

Sharold Yount, owner and director of Sharold Yount School of Baton in Granite City, is sponsoring the pageant.

Seventeen competitive events in five different age groups are open to both boys and girls, who range in age from toddlers to 20 years.

More than 200 young people representing six states will compete in the 1981 Miss Sweetheart Pageant and Open Contest for baton twirlers.

The event, sanctioned by the National Baton Twirlers Association, will take place in the Meridian Ballroom on the Edwardsville campus of Southern Illinois University.

Sharold Yount, owner and director of Sharold Yount School of Baton in Granite City, is sponsoring the pageant.

1980 fires in GC cause damage totaling $723,525

Fires in 1980 caused an estimated $723,525 damage in Granite City, according to the annual report of the city's fire department, presented to the city council Tuesday night by Fire Chief Don Parente.

There were 540 fires extinguished by the department last year, and rescue officials responded to 41 inhalor and rescue calls during the year, according to the report.

The fires caused an estimated loss to buildings of $25,525, vehicle damage of $92,105, damage to the contents of the buildings and $92,105 damage to motor vehicles in 1980.

Fire department ambulances responded to 3,816 calls during the year, according to the report.

In addition to the fire and rescue calls, firemen during the year conducted fire drills and inspections in all public and parochial schools and gave demonstrations on fire safety to various civic and school organizations. Many industrial plants and commercial complexes were visited to familiarize firemen with the layouts and to educate for hazards, Parente reported.

Three emergency medical technicians (EMTs) with the fire department have achieved state certification as instructors of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and are now teaching CPR classes to organizations and groups in the community. Six paramedics and four EMTs are scheduled for classes this year to upgrade their certifications, Parente noted.

A total of 32 firemen were injured on duty during the year, all of whom were treated and none resulted in a disability, he added.

Other achievements during 1980 included several convictions from arson investigations involving individuals and, in January, 1980, a new statewide fire reporting system went into operation, according to the annual report.

Technologies are being cited in the state's decision to withhold part of its subsidy for bus service in Madison County. It wants verification that it is spending its quarter-cent sales tax hike (it did) Feb. 1.

The transit district no longer plans to seek a loan from the county government to meet initial expenses.

State Representative Everett G. Steele was named Monday by House Speaker George Ryan as vice-chairman of the Transportation Committee. He also served on the Motor Vehicles and Registration Committee.

Rep. Jim McPike, a Democrat, who will be an ex-officio member of four committees, yet to be chosen.

fraudulent use of the state "circuit breaker" tax exemption law (designed to provide tax relief for the elderly and disabled) cost Illinois as much as $44 million since the law went into effect in 1972. Revenue Director Thomas Johnson agreed that fraud is widespread but declined to estimate the dollar volume.

The Cottonwood Bank and Trust Co. on Tuesday rescinded its Jan. 13 demand that about 40 home mortgages be paid in full by March 1. The demand had come in the 30-year loans early because it said it was besieged by high interest rates and wanted to boost the interest on the mortgages.

Home owners protested, and the bank now says it will exercise a little-known demand clause. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. launched an investigation of whether the bank's initial action was appropriate.

Unhappy that the 29 Republican Illinois senators had named David Shapiro as Senate president Jan. 15, the 30 Democrats on Tuesday elected Philip J. Rock as president pro tempore in Sen. James C. Sangmeister plans tax system proposal

By RAY SERATI

SPRINGFIELD — For some time members of the General Assembly as well as state officials have tried to devise plans to stimulate the growth of local businesses and industries.

Everyone, regardless of politics, in recent months has agreed that the matter centers around taxes basically. But the problem is how would government go about making changes in the tax system?

Sen. George E. Sangmeister, who has pre-filed the proposal for the 82nd General Assembly which starts on Jan. 14, that means it will be introduced at least on a formal basis.

The Mokena Democrat has pre-filed a proposed constitutional amendment which would allow a deferral of up to 10 years in local property taxes for expansion or the relocation of industries within a given taxing district. It would be up to the local taxing district to give approval to the deferral.

In an effort to get some local input from the voters, Sangmeister has decided to make the change in the form of a constitutional amendment. If the proposal presented on the ballot, it would give the voters a chance to express their viewpoint on the matter.

Early indications are that several constitutional proposals may be made dealing with taxes. Sangmeister will have the opportunity of his proposal being messaged with another tax proposal, assuming he would want his plan to get before the voters intact.

James C. Taylor, 32, of 1718 rear Edison Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 8:18 p.m. yesterday with a CO2 pistol wound and a pellet lodged in the right side of the head. He was said to be in stable condition today. Details of the shooting are under investigation. A witness said Taylor picked up pistol and went onto his porch alone at 8 p.m. with the witness hearing Taylor had been shot. Police found the weapon on the porch and confiscated it.

Granite crime rate is under national average

Crime in Granite City is below the national average, Granite City Chief of Police Donald J. Veizer pointed out Tuesday as he reviewed the department's annual police report.

Veizer noted that in every major crime category, except for Grand Larceny, there was well below crime the average, the national average in 1979, the last year for which figures are available. The national average is expected to be higher in 1980, further improving the comparison, Veizer said. "Overall, I'd say we're in pretty good shape," he concluded after the figures were presented.

The two categories where Granite City's average was higher than the 1979 national average, murder and aggravated assault, "are crime categories that guard against," Veizer said, explaining, "If I pulled out a gun right now and shot you, all of the officers in this building (the police building during a shift change) could not stop me. You just can't stop me from killing or assaulting," he added.

Nationally, an average of 5,520.8 per each 100,000 persons was the victim of a major crime in 1979, according to the statistics.

The figure is expected to climb at least eight percent or more for 1980, but those figures are not yet available, the chief said.

Using roughly 40,000 persons in Granite City for comparison, approximately 2,200 persons should experience crimes each year here. With a possible eight percent national increase, the 1980 figures are expected to grow to approximately 2,384 per 100,000 persons for 1980.

Last year in Granite City, 2,000 incidents were reported in Granite City, slightly below the national average. The growth in crime between 1979 to 1980 in the city—three percent—is much below the anticipated eight or more percent in the national average.

The three percent climb is also well below the 18 percent increase in crime the national average experienced between 1979 and 1980, Veizer said.

Veizer said, "The national average is expected to be higher in 1980, further improving the comparison," Veizer said. "Overall, I'd say we're in pretty good shape," he concluded after the figures were presented.

Nationally, among each 100,000 persons, 1,908 thefts were reported in 1979. Granite City, by average, should have 1,195 cases. Actually, there were only 1,035 cases last year and 1,035 in 1979.

Auto thefts—the national average showed 498.5 auto thefts per 100,000 persons.

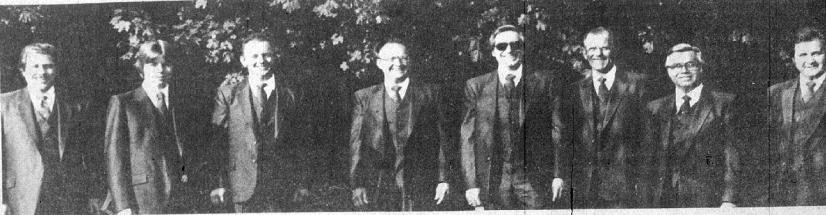

Granite City should have experienced 40 percent of this, or 3.8 murders. There were five, considered to be murders in 1979, the city had only three, below the 1979 national average.

Veizer also noted that all five murders last year were cleared by arrests.

For example, there were 34.5 rapes per 100,000 persons. Granite City should have experienced 13.8, but had only seven.

Robbery and armed robbery. Nationally, there were 270.1 cases per 100,000 persons were reported and Granite City's

Authorize funds for trees around city buildings

Granite City's fire stations and police building may be made more beautiful by sprucing up the exterior of action taken by the Granite City Council Tuesday night to appropriate money to purchase decorative pear trees.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said he has discussed the project with the Cleveland, Ohio, firm recommended by the Granite City Park District and has found that the decorative trees can be purchased for $16 to $18.50 each, plus shipping costs.

He said that the city's engineering department is determining how many trees each fire station and the police department should have.

Whitmer said he does not think $600 would pay for the trees, plus shipping and modified the motion to authorize up to $600, plus shipping costs.

The motion was approved unanimously with Aldermen Charles Clegg and Earl Baker absent.

It was noted that city employees will plant the trees.

Area children creating original programs on cable TV channel

By LOUISE HAMLIN

In early November 1980, an informal group of friends (now called Rainbow Productions) decided to produce an alternative children's program on Southwestern Cable TV Channel 1. "Kids Are Special" is the name of each program has its own special theme.

On Jan. 17, the final taping for the first of six planned programs was completed. "Winter Fair" was the first program, was aired on Cable TV Channel 1 on Jan. 24 at 9 a.m. and will be aired for three consecutive Saturdays until our second program is completed.

"We hope that, now that we have completed our first program, many other children in the area who would like to help in the creation of 'Kids Are Special.'"

Being a newly-organized group with little funds to start with, we could have never begun had not Mary Hildebrand, a community program coordinator for Southwestern Cable TV, granted us the use of their studio and equipment in Maryville.

One would think that there is no stopping us now, but that's not entirely true.

Our community and attraction are the kids. They are not just who the program is for; they are the program. We have been working with about a dozen children from the Troy, Edwardsburg, Maryville, Caseyville, Collinsville and Granite City areas.

Sponsorship does not have to be in the form of cash resources. We are also in need of donated materials, including lumber, paint and fabric, and donated time for the construction of sets. We would greatly appreciate any help that the public could give us.

We feel that community input is necessary to make truly community developed programs, we invite any comments, ideas and suggestions that people may have concerning our first program.

Readers, thank you for your time and attention. In return, we pledge to continue to provide a fun, healthy alternative to today's children's media.

We can be reached at 856-5736 or by writing to Rainbow Productions, c/o Louise Hamlin, 919 Hale Ave., Edwardsburg 62025.

Planning rooms to maximum effect

By CATHERINE MAUCK
County Homemaking
Adviser

Do you like large, airy rooms flooded with sunshine that are filled with expanse of open space? Or do you prefer corner rooms with plenty of well-planned nooks and crannies?

Both types of rooms can be very attractive if planned properly, either specifically or not. But failing to decide which end of the space-use spectrum you're trying to achieve can produce haphazard and amateur-looking results.

Because different family members have varied likes and dislikes when it comes to arranging space within a home, you may want to consider those factors when planning a new home or drawing up renovation schemes for your present house.

In deciding which arrangement-wide open or close and cozy—will be best for your family, ask yourself the following questions to help you analyze individual interior space preferences:

1. Do you like open living spaces that flow together? 2. Do you prefer to have most of the floor space in your home divided into individual rooms that can be closed off?

3. Do you like rooms that visually "open" onto a few or perhaps a great deal of exterior porch or other outside focal point?

4. Do you strive to create a cozy, intimate feeling in your home?

5. Do you prefer sheer draperies through which light can filter in from large windows?

6. Do you tend to select heavy drapes, shades or other screens to add warmth to the interior of a room and give a feeling of protectiveness?

If you answered "yes" to more of the odd-numbered questions, you probably would be more generally satisfied with outward-looking interior space arrangements featuring large rooms, lots of large windows with sheer or no drapes and light, small-scale furniture.

If you answered "yes" to more of the even-numbered questions, you probably would be more satisfied with inward-looking space arrangements featuring more and smaller rooms that converge on a central interior focal point such as an interesting table, sofa or even rug around which other furniture is arranged.

You may want to achieve both space—use effects within a single room—but within the same room. You may prefer, for example, to have a large airy living room in one area of the house and a small, cozy den located somewhere else.

If you give some thought to how you like a room to look before you begin to start planning, you'll be able to work from the beginning toward achieving that effect. For example, if you know you want a large airy living room, you can have large windows installed at the time you build rather than trying to achieve an airy look later with the use of plants and artificial light.

On the other hand, if you prefer a small, interfor-looking living room, you'll be able to avoid having costly glass doors and windows installed that you don't really want.

Either way, remember there's no right or wrong—unless you neglect to plan for one or the other look in the first place and then have trouble achieving the exact effect you want later.

Coin club flea market Sunday

A flea market and craft show, sponsored by the Land of Lincoln Coin and Stamp Club, will be held Sunday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue.

The event will take place from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend and admission is free.

Coin and stamp collectors also are invited to attend meetings of the club, which are held on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation center.

GRANITE CITY BANK

Q. Would the declaration of a major economic emergency entail a bank moratorium such as the one which occurred early in the Depression?

A. No. President Reagan's top economic aides have stated there is no need for a bank moratorium or an order to close banks. The measures which will probably be taken in the present economic situation will, reportedly, be included in a package of spending and tax reductions designed to lower long-term interest rates and reduce inflationary expectations. These will probably go to Congress early in the new administration. The plan, thus described—in the early stages, includes a 30 percent personal income tax cut over a three year period, a plan to index taxes so they aren't tied to inflation, a 40 percent business depreciation write off and perhaps, most significant, a broad cut in federal spending.

Sanders-Guenther

Miss Sharon Sue Guenther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guenther, 2935 Indiana Ave., became the bride to Keith Michael Sanders son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanders, 1045 Rhodes St., on Nov. 8 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Red bows marked the pews for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. William Oberholzer before an altar decorated with bouquets of pink and white carnations, daisies and baby's breath attached.

Nuptial selections included "Annie's Song," "Long Time," "I Spy," and The Lord's Prayer.

For her wedding the bride chose a full length white gown fashioned with a sheer yoke traced with delicate lace motifs, which were repeated on the long tapered sleeves.

A lace trim bordered the hemline of the straight skirt and chapel train.

She wore a long (tapered veil accented with lace) and a matching Chapel train and she held a bouquet of red roses and miniature white carnations, intermingled with baby's breath and greenery.

Maid of honor was Miss Joann Guenther and the bridesmaids included Miss Christine Coleman, Miss Cindy Mueller, Miss Marilyn Guenther and Mrs. Phyllis Trolinger, both sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Donna Sanders, the groom's sister.

All attendants wore identical long red crushed velvet dresses designed with full gathered skirts, long puffed sleeves and sheer lace collars.

They carried white velvet mitts with clusters of red roses, white carnations and baby's breath attached.

Jennifer Cordia was the flower girl and Keith Schoolman served as the ring bearer.

She was dressed in a white frock fashioned with long sleeves, a round neckline and full skirt enhanced with a ruffle trim. She also wore a white veil applied with red velvet bows and held a small bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The groom chose Terry Kowalczyk as best man, Patrick Orasco, David Moosegan, Robert Fillback, Martin Wills and Richard Kierski, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

Michael Trowbridge and Mark Guenther, cousins of the bridal couple, seated the guests.

The evening reception was held at Polish Hall in Madison and the rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the bride.

After a wedding trip to Florida the newlywed couple is residing in Madison.

The bride is a member of St. Louis law firm and is a part time student at Belleville Area College.

Her husband works at ACF, Division of American Cast Foundries. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and Explorer Post 104.

Silver Bells birthday meet

The Silver Bells Senior Club held a memorial service for deceased members of the club at the January meeting of the organization held at the Venice Recreation Center, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mae Lowry conducted the service and the members observed a silent prayer followed by a song to complete the ceremony.

Mrs. Florence Lee gave the club a short history followed by a program with birthday members participating with each one giving a reading or poem.

Those birthday greetings were given by Mrs. Roosevelt Hale, Leila Hale, Irene Lee, Jean Henry Beyer, Theresa Ballinger, Liza Ward, Ben Bankhead, Ada Walker and Mrs. Lowry.

After the meeting a dinner was served to 60 people.

Friendly Agers elect officers

The Friendly Agers Club of Second Baptist Church elected officers at a monthly meeting held at the church last week.

Those named to serve for the ensuing year include Mina Duggins, president, Mildred Crimson, treasurer and Goldie Smith, publicity.

Woodrow Crimson opened the meeting with prayer and the group sang a hymn.

Readings were given by Naomi Rooney and Mrs. Naomi Rooney and special songs were offered by Mildred Crimson, G. Glenn McCracken, Mildred Garin and Alice Hoffman.

Deviotions were given by the Rev. G. Glenn McCracken, another brother of the groom, Bob Ferrato, Rivers Anderson and Kyle Smith, conducted the corps of groomsman and ushers.

Raymond Guenther, a brother of the bride, and Carl Mattoch, were served as ring bearers.

Mr. and Mrs. LeGate entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner in their home.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception held at the Venice American Legion Hall.

The couple honeymooned in Naples, Fla., and are now residing in Edwardsburg.

A graduate of St. Louis High School, the bride is currently employed at the First National Bank in St. Louis.

The groom is an apprentice plumber with the L&S Plumbing Co. and is a 1978 graduate of North High School.

Her mantilla style veil of bridal illusion was applied with lace motifs and she carried an arrangement of yellow rose, orange tiger lilies, peach carnations, white daisies and baby's breath centered on a white Chantilly lace fan.

Attending the bride were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guenther, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David LeGate.

They selected midnight blue crepe gowns designed with high necklines, lace collars, and full skirts.

Each held an ivory Chantilly lace fan with yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath attached.

Katherine Schenke, a niece of the groom, she wore a white chiffon neck and carried a bouquet similar to the bridal arrangement.

Thomas Guenther was the bride's brother, served as ring bearer.

Keith LeGate attended his brother as best man. Scott G. Shortall, another brother of the bride, and Carl Mattoch, were served as ring bearers.

Her slim skirt terminated with a lace flounce which extended into the chapel train.

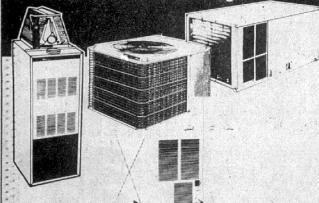

She wore a lace cap to secure her finger tip veil and she held a cascade of white carnations, pink daisies and white flock.

Carol Druss served as honor attendant with bridesmaids, Marilyn,

Mr. and Mrs. David LeGate

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Trolinger

LeGate-Guenther

The wedding of Miss Diana Marie Guenther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Guenther, 2935 Indiana Ave., and Mrs. Raymond J. Guenther, 2935 Indiana Ave., and the bride's son, the Rev. Mark J. Guenther, 38 Glen Carbon Drive, Glen Carbon, was solemnized on Oct. 4 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Father Seamus Shortall performed the ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. The altar was decorated with baskets of yellow mums and ferns and the pews were marked with clusters of lily of the valley and white carnations.

Minister Esther Vasileff, violinist, played The Lord's Prayer accompanied by Mrs. Clela Judd at the organ. Other nuptial selections were sung by Sherri Angle and Mary Dryden.

The bride wore a formal white organza gown designed with a high neckline accented with pearls, long sheer sleeves featuring lace motifs and a semi-full skirt which extended into a chapel train.

Her mantilla style veil of bridal illusion was applied with lace motifs and she carried an arrangement of yellow rose, orange tiger lilies, peach carnations, white daisies and baby's breath centered on a white Chantilly lace fan.

Attending the bride were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Guenther, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David LeGate.

They selected midnight blue crepe gowns designed with high necklines, lace collars, and full skirts.

Each held an ivory Chantilly lace fan with yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath attached.

Katherine Schenke, a niece of the groom, she wore a white chiffon neck and carried a bouquet similar to the bridal arrangement.

Thomas Guenther was the bride's brother, served as ring bearer.

Keith LeGate attended his brother as best man. Scott G. Shortall, another brother of the bride, and Carl Mattoch, were served as ring bearers.

Her slim skirt terminated with a lace flounce which extended into the chapel train.

She wore a lace cap to secure her finger tip veil and she held a cascade of white carnations, pink daisies and white flock.

Carol Druss served as honor attendant with bridesmaids, Marilyn,

REV. LARRY RICE GUEST SPEAKER

The Rev. Larry Rice will be the guest speaker at Body of Christ Fellowship, 4025 Pontoon Rd. at 10 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 8, according to the host pastor, Rev. Kim Gustaf.

Rev. Gustaf added the featured speaker is pastor of New Life Center in St. Louis.

Past Matrons elect officers

Past Matrons Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, met in the home of Mrs. Virginia John for a monthly meeting, last week.

Mike Ebrecht, president, opened the session and conducted an election of officers.

Those to serve for the forthcoming year include, Dorothy Watkins, president; Linda King, vice-president; and Diana Boyer, secretary-treasurer.

Members agreed to accept Sadie Jones and Florence Sphar as honorary members of the chapter.

Those named as being ill were Mrs. Watkins, Ruth Dick and Bess Henley.

A committee was appointed to complete plans for the annual past matrons and past wives dinner to be held April 1.

Mrs. Ebrecht announced there will be a chicken dinner open to the public on March 18 at the Masonic Temple, sponsored by Grotto Chapter 650. Tickets may be purchased from any member, she added.

Mrs. Donna Kagi will be the March hostess it was noted.

Mr. John served a dessert luncheon using a Valentine, Washington and Lincoln decorating theme for the table appointments.

After the meeting games were played and prizes awarded to Kathryn Edmunds, Mrs. Watkins, Linda Griffith, Arlene Fox, Mary Bilbrey and a special gift went to Mrs. Edmunds. Others attending were Frances Williams, Betty McClintock and Dorothy Brokaw.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Chadwick of Collinsville, formerly of Granite City. Parents of the groom, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Leach, reside in Houston, Texas.

The Rev. James Collins performed the double ring ceremony at 11 a.m. in the morning.

A program of nuptial selections were provided by organist, Mary Ann Peskero and soloist, Delores Oberlo.

For her wedding, the former Miss Maryville chose a full length white velvet gown fashioned with an empire bodice, scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves and semi-straight skirt with a detachable train.

She wore a Juliet cap with a lace headband and in place her full length veil of silk chiffon. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses intermingled with greenery and tied with satin ribbon.

Honorary attendant was Mrs. JoAnn Thornton and the bridesmaids included Mrs. Teresa Chadwick, Mrs. Lisa Seltz, the groom's sister, Lisa Ebling, Cindy Van Fossen and Mrs. Perez Drew.

They selected identical identical marine blue velvet dresses designed with scoop necklines, long sleeves and matching feather headbands.

Each attendant carried blue velvet muffs with a cluster of white roses attached.

Angela Ellis, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and George Leach, the groom's brother, served as ringbearer.

DAR to mark battle of Yorktown

The 200th anniversary of the victory at Yorktown will be observed Oct. 19. The Drusilla Andres Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will give recognition to the event by reading and discussing extracts from the literature of the Virginia Independence Bicentennial Committee each month through October.

Pvt. Mansfield witnessed Cornwallis' surrender and saw his sword delivered by Gen. O'Hara to Gen. Lincoln for Gen. Washington.

Robert Mansfield, ancestor of Mrs. Marian Kastelic, local DAR member, participated in the Battle of Yorktown on Oct. 19, 1781.

Quoting the commission on the significance of Yorktown, it says:

"The American Republic was proclaimed to the world on the fourth of July, 1776, in the words of the Declaration of Independence. This was one thing, however, to declare the creation of a republic; still another to make the declaration good."

"American independence was to be won on the battlefield, and the infant republic appeared tenuous at best, in the years following its bold declaration."

"The evident significance of Yorktown is that the issue of our independence and the birth of our republic was declared once and for all by the victory of Washington and the allied French

American forces. Less obvious but of equal significance, Yorktown also decided for America that the supreme power would rest

not in the hands of government, but in the hands of the people."

Couple hosts music group

The Metro-East Organ Society met Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Neumann with 11 members and eight guests present. President Howard Austin conducted a short business meeting.

Public owns, guides college, Wissore says

Belleville Area College administrators will continue to keep, as their primary thought, the fact that the university within its district boundaries is the product according to Dr. Bruce Wissore, acting president.

In a speech before area community college presidents and members of the board of trustees of their colleges, Wissore said that planning is no longer the key word for community colleges or for any other segment of higher education. "The key now is to be good at the fundamentals," he said.

Dr. Wissore compared the business of education to athletes preparing for a game.

"The shortstop must assess with each pitch that the ball is going to fall within his range. But he has to wait until the ball leaves the bat before he can put into the fundamentals he has practiced," he said.

"Our faculty members must get up every morning and determine themselves they teach students, not subjects. "So far as administrators are concerned, they have to know what their responsibilities are and exercise them with every ounce of energy they have."

"Sometimes this responsibility carries with it such tasks as being painfully truthful, but the hard way out becomes the easy way out."

"Every time we have tried to spare someone's feelings, or placate in any way, the task became much more difficult."

"Every time we bit the bullet early and told everyone what we were going to do, even if they might not like it, the task became much more difficult."

"Community colleges have one of the most difficult jobs in higher education because of the wide range of students they serve."

"In order to meet our academic goals as well as our financial responsibilities in the years ahead, we must be level and flexible."

"We cannot tolerate mediocrity. We must expect each organizational unit to exercise its power regularly and well. Above all, we must always remember that the community owns the school."

College presidents and boards should not fear change. Every time there is a change, there is an opportunity to improve."

"The most important, if you keep all the parts of your college running efficiently, the college as a whole will be able to meet any changing set of conditions."

"Community colleges have one of the most difficult jobs in higher education because of the wide range of students they serve."

"More than 16,000 postal workers across the nation were hurt when they fell or lost their balance," Wilkins said, "and ice and snow was the primary cause of those accidents."

"We do everything possible to deliver the mail regardless of how bad the weather becomes," Wilkins said. "But we want to remind people that snow and ice on steps and sidewalks has to be removed where carriers must walk."

Wilkins said he realizes it's not always easy to remove

Ice, snow plague postal workers

Ice-covered sidewalks and steps were the cause of injury to literally thousands of Postal Service employees last year, according to Postmaster James D. Wilkins of Granite City.

"More than 16,000 postal workers across the nation were hurt when they fell or lost their balance," Wilkins said, "and ice and snow was the primary cause of those accidents."

"We do everything possible to deliver the mail regardless of how bad the weather becomes," Wilkins said. "But we want to remind people that snow and ice on steps and sidewalks has to be removed where carriers must walk."

Wilkins said he realizes it's not always easy to remove ice and snow, but carriers are not required to risk personal injury from unusual hazards to deliver the mail."

To allow a carrier to drive up to a curbside mailbox to deposit or collect mail without leaving his or her vehicle, rural or curbside boxes should be kept clear of snow, vehicles or other obstructions,

McKeehan is new South grid coach

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Jerry

McKeehan, 32, was named head football coach at

Granite City High School

South for next season

Tuesday night by the Unit 9

Granite City School Board.

McKeehan's appointment fills the position left vacant

last November by the resignation of Stan Wojcik.

McKeehan was one of four finalists interviewed by the board for the position. He has most number of years experience in Granite City of the final four applicants, he was somewhat surprised to get the job.

A native of Granite City,

McKeehan graduated from

Granite City High School in 1966 after gaining All-

Southwestern Conference

honors as a guard and linebacker for Coach Jim

Morrison's Warriors. From

GCHS to the Western

Illinois University, when he played linebacker for Coach

Darrel Mudra, now head coach at Eastern Illinois

University, 1978 NCAA

national champions.

After graduating from

two years as an assistant coach at Morton, Ill. High School. He arrived in Granite City as an assistant football coach in 1972.

He has been involved in a troubled program at South.

The Warriors had an 0-9 record last season. "We've got to get to the kids," said

McKeehan. "We have to get people out for football —

make the program appeal to the kids."

Even though he has coached every aspect of the game, McKeehan's strong suit is defense. But he will be involved with all areas of the program. "I can do all the plays," he said. "I think that since I've always been associated with defense, it'll still help me with offense."

South will have a strong shot next week with

Belleville East, O'Fallon and

in addition to two conference games with State Class 4A

champion Belleville Althoff

and single Gateway East officer, he said, and the conference runnerup

Granite City, North,

Edwardsburg and Cahokia.

"We're starting from scratch," said McKeehan.

"It's a numbers game. We aren't going out these days.

That's not only the case in Granite City, but everywhere. I'm not afraid to talk to anybody who wants to talk about the game.

THRILLER AT KIEL. The Granite City South girls' overtime win over Triad Wednesday night at Kiel Auditorium was a thriller. At top, the two teams battle for a rebound. Above left, South's Terri Schuler brings the ball down the floor. At right, Chris Boyd puts up two of her 18 points. South remained undefeated while Triad suffered its first loss.

GRANITE CITY — The big question will finally be answered at Granite City South tonight. Which team in the area — the Granite City North Steelers or the South Warriors? Before the 6 p.m. match, South once again was voted as the best area squad according to the Granite City Press Record Prep Coaches Poll.

That shouldn't be a a surprise. The Warriors have held down the spot ever since they placed first in their own holiday tournament in December. Since that finish, the panel of coaches has remained true with its selection of South and has been looking to this matchup for confirmation.

South, which has been working hard, is according to Steeler head coach Walt Whitaker, the match will be just like meets one at a

The key to the North all season has been its lower weights. Whitaker has already placed his confidence in them. However, he and Schmitt see the match up at 185 pounds as a crucial one. Skate, Pass & Shoot GRANITE CITY — The St. Louis Blues and the St. Louis Goldentimers Club will be sponsoring the Skate, Pass and Shoot Contest for amateur hockey players in the Granite City area.

The event will be held at the Granite City Park District Ice Rink on Thursday, Feb. 12, from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

The Skate, Pass and Shoot Contest has been developed as a test of the basic hockey skills for skating, stickhandling, passing and shooting. Competition is against the clock. Children whose ages 6 to 16 during the 1980 calendar year are eligible to participate.

Categories are: Mites, 6-8; Squirts, 9-10; Pee Wees, 11-12; Bantams, 13-14; Midgets, 15-16.

All participants will receive an official Skate, Pass and Shoot patch and will be eligible for additional prizes if they are winners.

Official entry blanks will be available at the Granite City Park District Ice Rink. Registration is

Madison still on top in poll

GRANITE CITY — The Madison Trojans have been an easy win Class A small school team in the area for over a month now. It's an expected pick from the board of coaches on the Granite City Press Prep Poll.

But, the addition of the Parkersville Panthers to the list of area teams might give Madison a run for its money. Pinckneyville (17-3) made a strong entrance into this week's poll and racked up enough votes for a third place showing. The Panthers, of Coach Dick Corn even gathered in a first place vote from one of the coaches on the board. It was the first time in four weeks the Trojans were not a unanimous choice.

Madison's easy win Tuesday only enhanced its selection as the number one

"We just wanted to team that has lesser talent than you, you tend to get into a race-horse type of game," said Graham. "Roosevelt wasn't that of a team and I get more time to the rest of the team."

Once again, the entire Madison squad managed to chalk up points. Charles Doublett also scored in double figures for the Trojans. In addition to pumping in 10 points, he grabbed 10 rebounds as Madison dominated on the boards, 50-37.

It was a big accomplishment for the Trojans to look so strong without Hughes. "It's disappointing that he's not in there," said Graham. "We will have to learn to play without him."

The Trojans will see how much Hughes' absence will hurt as they find themselves in a rematch with the East St. Louis Flyers (14-4) at home Friday. Madison took a 71-70 decision at the Centralia Holiday Tournament in December.

Whenever Madison's offense soars, everyone on the team wants into the act.

SIUE's Steinkamp is having tough season

By DEB FRIEDEN
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Helen Steinkamp was one of the leading scorers and rebounders for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's basketball team last year. This year, she is having a tough season.

Steinkamp experienced sharp pain in her left leg at the beginning of this year's campaign. The pain was diagnosed as periositis, an inflammation of the lining of the bone, healed only by the passage of time and by rest. "I was still allowed to practice, but all I did was work on my shooting. I couldn't do any of the drills or scrimmages because I couldn't run," explained Steinkamp.

"Stills," as her teammates call her, stands 6'2". She prepared at Okawville High School. Her high school honors include "best defensive player" and numerous rebounding awards. "I played three years for the Rockhounds and had one of the best coaches around," reminisced to SIUE center Steinkamp.

The sophomore accounting major had reached one goal this season and that was beating Southeast Missouri State. "SEMO is just a team that I have always wanted to beat, and we did it this year in double overtime at the Northern Illinois University tournament to take second place. It was a great feeling to beat them, but when it is to be my best and to someday make All-American," commented Steinkamp.

The Cougars, who were 11-13 as of Feb. 4, have eight regular season games left until early March when they travel to Loyola College in Chicago for their state tournament. "The tournament is going to be tough, but I feel we will be a lot more competitive than last year. Susan Blythe and Nancy Swan work so well together and with Schaeke scoring from the inside, I feel we will be no pushover for anyone. Our team goal is just to win a trophy this year," said Steinkamp.

The Cougars have lost twice to Bradley this season. "Another goal for our team is to beat Bradley. We all feel we can do it, and they are definitely within reach. They are a big rivalry, and I know we can beat them."

New criteria for school milk, meals

Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School has announced a change in its policy for free meals or reduced price lunches for children unable to pay the full price of the meal. The National School Lunch Program for Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining free and reduced price meals from Aug. 1, 1980, to Sept. 1, 1981:

Family size, one, family income for free meals and free milk $5,700, family income for reduced price meals $8,350; two, $7,220, $10,800; three, $8,320, $10,800; four, $10,270-$15,490; five, $11,800-$17,870; six, $13,320-$20,250; seven, $14,850-$22,620; eight, $16,370-$25,000; for each additional family member add $1,530 and $2,650.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals or reduced price lunches.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. To discourage the possibility of tampering with the application, the application form contains a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct.

An additional statement is added to warn that the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. Foster children living with their family and with the family's consent, may apply for free or reduced price meals for them, the family should contact the school. If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application.

Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his or her race, sex, color, or national origin.

According to the provisions of the policy, Sister Esther, principal, will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he or she may write to the state director with the determining official on an informal basis. If the person wishes to make a formal appeal, the parent may make a request either orally or in writing to the state director, State Office, 2600 Washington Ave., Granite City, Illinois, telephone No. 877-1158, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains a timeline of the hearing procedure.

The office of Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

GIFT FOR RETIREES. Through the donations by union locals in the area, a pool table has been purchased and donated to the Five-O Club, located at 1810 State St. The club, open to retirees from any union, has about members at present. Prison inmates in state are now earning college degrees

Next summer, Charles Helwig will end 17 years in southern Illinois prisons. No one ever sentenced him to go to college at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's penitentiary program.

Seventeen years ago, the program got underway as a correspondence of classes taught at Menard Penitentiary. Now, inmates can earn bachelor's degrees in three prisons: Marion Federal Penitentiary, and the Menard and Vienna Correctional Centers operated by the state government.

In the fall of 1966, SIUC offered the first course at Menard, thought to be the first university credit class in any U.S. prison. Since then, the program has expanded to an uninterrupted series of classes into the prison.

Over the next eight years, the number of credit classes at Menard ranged from two to four each term. A non-credit discussion group on the "Great Books" added variety to regular classes. According to Willard M. Hutchins, creator of the "Great Books" series, anyone who read and understood the 100 books would have the equivalent of a college degree.

During the same period, inmates who took three or more classes each quarter were assigned to the "college gang." This gang had privileges such as use of typewriters, extra lights and the prison library.

When Helwig first taught at Menard in 1964, the program didn't offer freshman or sophomore classes.

But, working with Dean Raymond H. Dey who was then SIUC's Extension Division, Helwig developed a sequence of freshman and sophomore classes.

So although they couldn't earn a degree while imprisoned, inmates could complete four years of college classes without ever attending classes at the SIUC campus.

At the inmates' request, the first formal commencement was held at Marion in 1976, with then-SIUC President Warren W. Brandt presiding. Formal commencements have been held in all three prisons since then.

Representatives of all educational programs at Menard were present at SIUC's 1980 summer commencement. The superintendent of Chester's public schools represented the GED (general educational development) program and the president of Belleville Area College represented the associate degree program; and SIUC's president represented the bachelor degree program.

Helwig estimates that 85 percent of the inmates who took college classes later graduated from SIUC.

With the introduction of Marion Federal Penitentiary and Vienna Correctional Center in 1965 and 1966, SIUC introduced identical programs in those institutions. However, Vienna had open enrollment, which allowed people other than residents to take classes. Women also were enrolled in classes at Vienna.

After 1970, two major changes occurred in the program.

First, an Illinois law placed the whole state under junior college districts. Since SIUC couldn't compete with a junior college for enrollment, the three districts—Shawnee Community College and John A. Logan Community College took responsibility for the freshman and sophomore classes.

In the second development, the university began offering a University Studies degree. The flexible program allows inmates to graduate requirements for bachelor's degrees without ever attending classes at the SIUC campus.

Man arrested after car steals building

Richard A. Cigelske, 23, of 508 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested on four charges in the 1400 block alley between Granite and Marion avenues at 4:40 a.m. Wednesday, five minutes after his auto allegedly struck the front of a metal building owned by John Jaros at 1420 State St.

A southbound car went out of control and struck the curve on State Street at 15th Street, police were told.

The auto was abandoned on 14th Street and police apprehended Cigelske, who was wanted in Marion. It was alleged he threw beer cans at the arresting officers. They filed charges of driving without a license, failing to report a collision, aggravated assault and resisting arrest.

National education test here

Granite City High School South will administer the National Educational Development Tests on Thursday, Feb. 19.

The NEDT is a testing program that helps educators, parents and students plan together for the educational and vocational future of the students, Counselor Sheryl K. Evans said.

She added that sophomores with "B" averages or better can benefit from this test, which compares their educational development with that of other sophomores taking the test in high schools throughout the country.

"The test will not affect grades, but it will help the student, his parents and his counselor objectively view his strengths and areas of weakness. The NEDT also gives the student experience in taking a test very much like the pre-entrance examinations for college," she said.

The fee for the test is $2.50 and is to be paid by Feb. 18. Money will be collected in the guidance office before school, during homeroom, and after school at South.

PERSONALS: I would like to thank all those responsible for helping me during my recent crisis. In a time of great need, when people are out for themselves, it is reassuring to know that there are people who genuinely care about others. I want to thank those at Cohen's Market for their generosity, kind and Ed — you are a truly wonderful person and friend.

Downtown loading zone plan killed

A proposal to designate areas of most city blocks as loading zones for businesses which are not served by alleys for truck loading and unloading would have hit a fair snag, it became clear at Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting.

City Attorney John Papa gave the council a legal opinion that it would be unlawful to provide loading zones only in front of certain businesses. "Chances are someone would challenge it in court as special treatment for certain buildings," Papa said.

He said the only legal way to provide loading zones would be to designate the identical spots in each downtown block as loading zones, and some blocks do not need loading zones.

Alderman Roy Peoples of the Third Ward said only three to five businesses need loading zones, because trucks currently have to double park in the street to load and unload merchandise.

Alderman Mac Warfield of the Fifth Ward was concerned that designating a few loading zones would lead to numerous requests from other businesses. "If you give in to one (business), they are going to be hollering for it," Warfield said.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the First Ward and Sam Whittner of the Second Ward also spoke in agreement with Warfield.

Fund-raiser for Cruse organized

Troop training activities

A one-day learning experience for Boy Scout Troop 7 patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders was sponsored last week on the parish grounds at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Instructors were Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr., who earned two merit badges, and Assistant Junior Scoutmaster Mark Mainridge.

Activities during the day included setting up a campfire, planning a menu and buying food, leadership quiz, blind compass reading, cooking lunch using the patrol method and utilizing Boy's Life as a reference manual.

The current issue of the magazine was used for the first aid segment.

Purpose of the session was to learn how to plan successful patrol activities and to assist patrol leaders in recognizing good leadership and encouraging team work.

Cobra Patrol Leader Jeff Kittel led the activity in which the scouts used a compass to locate a pole while their heads were covered with paper sacks.

In addition to those mentioned, patrol leaders and assistants in the session were Tony Jordan, Karl Markovich, Kevin Williamson and Mark Brazel.

Unemployment in Granite City remained higher than the county average during December, according to preliminary unemployment figures released Tuesday by Bob Warden of the Research and Analysis Section of the Illinois Job Service.

Preliminary December figures show that 13.4 percent of the Granite City work force was unemployed in December, up one-tenth of a percent from the 13.3 percent final unemployment rate in November.

A total of 2,409 eligible workers were without jobs in Granite City during December, while 22,062 were working, Warden explained.

Unemployment in Madison County rose by six-tenths of one percent during December, from 10 in the final November figures to 10.6 percent in the preliminary December figures.

County-wide, 97,516 persons were employed, while 11,359 were without jobs, according to the preliminary December figures.

Granite City's unemployment percentage led even East St. Louis, which showed an 11.8 percent unemployment rate in December, Belleville, with 12.5 percent unemployed.

High school, jr. high costs studied

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Will the Granite City Board of Education once again "bite the bullet" and raise school buildings as an economy measure?

Increasing numbers of taxpayers are concluding that the board may do just that, despite the unpopularity of any change in the status quo. And many think that a bold move, rather than a hasty step, might be the best way to proceed.

High school and junior high school programs may be altered, board members have said.

When the idea of closing an elementary school or two was first raised, the somewhat tentative approach. Separate hearings were conducted for all neighborhoods that would have been affected, and the largely negative sentiment among those attending was translated into inaction.

Later, the board had included a single hearing on closing Washington, McKinley and Stallings schools. Citizens objected to the plan, but it was implemented a year and a half ago, trimming overall operation and maintenance costs, and saving but not reversing the school district's nine growing financial imbalance.

Voters on Oct. 25, 1980, rejected by a nearly 2-1 margin a $2,900,000 bond issue and a 10-cent increase in the building fund tax rate. The proposals were intended to finance renovation of existing schools and increase preventive maintenance work.

A comprehensive study completed by school administrators Jan. 13 found that essential structural improvements and equipment will total $3,445,700 during the next five years, not allowing for inflation.

Even without any of this being done, building fund tax borrowing is headed for second-year anticipation warrants by 1985, the study noted.

Ten possible actions—including closing of facilities not outlined and currently being studied by administrators and board members. Some action could be necessary soon, since faculty members who would lose their jobs must be notified by April.

No cost-cutting is ever easy, school officials said.

In reducing the number of teachers in recent years, the board felt it had to terminate those with the shortest employment. The result was loss of some of "the best and brightest" along with those less highly rated. The average faculty age was increased sharply.

Many of those honorably discharged were on grade school staffs; increasingly, secondary-level teachers are likely to be targeted.

With dollars and students scarce, there has been a cutback in the curriculum offered to young people. But the board and administrators found that what they felt were relatively minor curriculum consolidations drew a sharp protest from high school teachers and students at the Jan. 20 board meeting.

If more stringent curriculum curtailments are considered, if big chunks of academic or vocational or extracurricular offerings are deleted, even louder complaints seem likely.

Yet, the board must maintain balanced schools, and voters seem unwilling to end the dilemma by authorizing tax rate hikes, officials say. With this an apparent fact of life, no portion of school spending may escape scrutiny.

It was disclosed on Jan. 13 that the Granite City district has $645,000 yearly "red ink." Already, the board is moving to make drastic school cafeteria changes, even though less money will be paid up front or getting less food.

Swift action also is being taken to carry out "quick payback" projects, such as converting more school furnaces to other fuels to reduce heating costs.

What changes in school services or programs would have the most impact in reducing expenses or balancing income and outgo? What options would be available in the long run?

Some of the partial remedies discussed last month would have the most important effect because they involve fund transfers—"robbing Peter to pay Paul," as it was described during a board discussion. Some of the plans later modified when it was decided to establish a second high school.

If North became a junior high, an option might be closing one or two of the existing junior high schools.

Converting the present junior high into an elementary school center, enabling one, two or three grade schools to be shut down.

Closing down one or two grade schools while keeping the high schools and junior highs open.

Practically all the way junior high schools and high schools are operated, including creating single district-wide varsity teams rather than the present dual teams.

As noted, these are laymen's ideas. Some or all might not work.

It is known that enrollment is declining in the projected secondary-level enrollment. Elementary pupils also have been drifting away, but some stabilization may occur in the number of grade school children during the early 1980s.

It is easy for laymen to speculate about school shutdowns, but only the school people with detailed, year-to-year neighborhood population and student estimates—can know with much certainty which, if any, closings would be feasible.

Some are closings, attendance boundaries of various schools would have to be altered, a step sure to lead to howls of protest from many families. How traumatic a change can be ordered when the public rising up in understandable anger?

How badly do taxpayers and voters want the kind of school system they now have? They cannot have it all, unless they are willing to pay for it.

Creation of a second high school in September 1973 was praised as opening wide opportunities for students to participate and mature and excel and lead. Is that concept no longer popular or affordable? (Almost anything is affordable if it is sufficiently popular.)

Growth has not been occurring at the expected rate. One reason may be the case of all will there be a resurgence of economic activity, employment and construction in this community? If growth resumes, there will be a greater need for school facilities and a bigger tax base to pay for them.

What should be done in the meantime? Educators concede they don't have all the answers, but are convinced that many decisions have to be made rather quickly, that specific remedial steps can be implemented.

Closing an entire school building, along with its drawbacks, has many positive financial aspects. Operating costs, including utility bills, drop abruptly. It is no longer necessary to remodel a building that isn't being used. Fewer employees of all kinds are required, supplies and fringe benefits remain a major element of school expenditures.

More bus transportation is necessary when fewer schools are operated. The state requires that transportation be available to local and rural residing students in half a mile or a half mile to the school to which they are assigned.

School bus service is costly, but this increased expenditure would be offset by a large margin if one or more buildings were closed.

The Belleville Area Programs and Services for Older Persons' office in Madison County will have an open house on Feb. 10 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The new office, facility, donated by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, houses the Madison County office of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program and the Senior Aides Program.

Previously, the RSVP office had been located in the Tri-City Area YMCA. The Senior Aides office will still maintain its office in Madison as well as the new location.

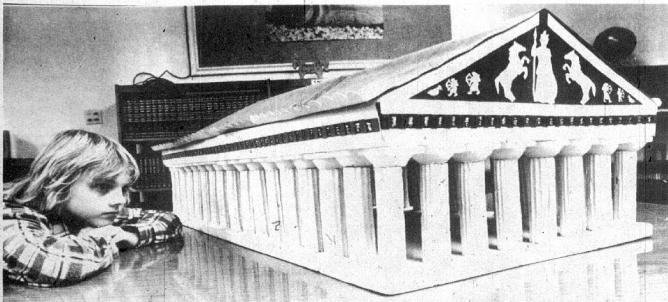

The new office is in the old McKinley School building at 2nd and Iowa Streets, Granite City. The community is being invited to attend the open house.

Representatives will be served and volunteers will be present to discuss various aspects of the program.

He is the son of Edwin and Ruth Jorgensen, 4404 Highways 162.

Insurance buyer guides available

Illinois consumers can now obtain copies of two new insurance buyer guides published by the Illinois Department of Insurance.

The "Buyers Guide to Homeowners and Tenants Insurance" and the "Buyers Guide to Automobile Insurance" summarize basic coverages and cost factors, and offer shopping hints.

"Special feature of both pamphlets is an easy-to-complete worksheet that enables the consumer to compare companies."

The sole purpose in preparing these guides is to provide the public with essential insurance information and commonsense advice," said Philip R. O'Connor, director of the Illinois Insurance Department.

"We decided against publishing rates because they tend to confuse people, and are often outdated by the time they are printed."

"Even in homeowner and auto insurance, where coverages are fairly similar from company to company, it is virtually impossible to present a completely accurate dollar comparison."

"The worksheets are much more practical. They permit the consumer to compare so that consumers can draw their own conclusions about finding the right company."

Copies of the guides are available free from the Illinois Department of Insurance, 320 W. Washington St., Springfield 62767.

Requests should be addressed to Buyers Guides and should include a self-addressed, stamped business envelope. Postage rates are 15 cents for one guide and 28 cents for both.

Requests for multiple copies will be honored while the supply lasts.

O'Connor also said the department is working on guides for accident and health and life insurance, as well as cancellation and reentry laws and what to do after a loss. The latter will encompass all lines of insurance.

Record year in 1980 for aluminum recycling

Southern Illinois and St. Louis area residents recycled more aluminum cans and other household aluminum last year than at any time in their history. S. B. Thompson, district manager of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company, has reported.

Area residents turned in a record 2,750,000 pounds of aluminum, 20 percent more than was redeemed in 1979. The residents received nearly $750,000 for their recycling efforts.

Reynolds operates ten Missouri mobile unit stops in the St. Louis area and three stops in southern Illinois in addition to its Belleville recycling plant.

The firm pays 30 cents per pound for all-aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum products.

This price increases the national price 20 cents per pound plus a seven-cent bonus. The bonus is subject to change or withdrawal without notice, depending on local market conditions.

Concert Chorale to perform Feb. 15

The Concert Chorale of Southern Illinois University, in its 16th season, will present a concert of "varied choral art" Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. at Saint Paul's Catholic Church, Highland.

The concert will be under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, professor of music at SIUE and founder of the international award-winning choir.

Music of several periods will be performed.

"A composition by Felix Mendelssohn will be presented, and an instrumental ensemble will accompany tenor soloist Gary Meier, tenor, soprano soloists and the Chorale in eight parts singing Ave Maria," Van Camp said.

Van Camp will appear as baritone soloist in the sixth movement of Johannes Brahms' Double German Requiem. Conducting the chorale in this movement will be a graduate assistant in choral music, Mark H. Boehmer.

Preceding the concert, an organ recital will be presented at 7:30 by students James P. Brobst and Michael Dilthey on the 23-rank pipe organ. Works will include the Prelude and Fugue in D Major by Dietrich Buxtehude and the J. S. Bach Concerto in A minor (after Vivaldi).

Admission is free. The public is being invited to attend.

Train nurses to work with handicapped pupils

Illinois is one of four states selected by the University of Colorado for participation in a program of training school nurses to better understand and meet the needs of handicapped children in public schools.

The other states — Illinois, Arizona, Washington and New Hampshire — were chosen under a School Nurse Achievement Program grant awarded to the university by the federal Bureau of Education for the Handicapped.

William L. Kempiners, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said the department's School Health Section will coordinate the program in Illinois.

"The program," he said, "will be attuned to both the physical and emotional needs of handicapped children, and will seek to improve the attitudes and clinical skills of school nurses who work with them."

Current plans are to conduct training sessions for eligible nurses at 10 sites throughout the state, beginning in June. Training will consist of two-day sessions, followed by a one-day session a month later and a second one-day session three weeks after that.

Local patriotism displayed at rally

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

More than 150 persons braved temperatures in the 20s and cold winds to attend a patriotism rally in the parking lot of Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

The rally, organized and led first of seven speakers, centered around the theme "Thumbs Up America," a slogan created by barber Fred McColligan of Granite City, the primary organizer of the rally.

Before each speech, McColligan led the enthusiastic crowd in chanting, "Thumbs Up America," while holding thumbs in the air.

The mood of the rally was set by the Drum and Bugle Corps of Granite City High School North and the Steel City Belles of Granite City High School. After Boy Scout Michael Mercer led the Pledge of Allegiance and June Branding led the singing of the National Anthem, McColligan introduced Mayor Paul Schuler, who said, "I think it is terrific this many people came out in weather like this. It shows a lot of patriotism."

"Thumbs Up America expresses our relief and joy at getting our people (hostages) back and is a symbol we need to unite us as a people and to remind us that no matter what conditions our country is in, it's still the greatest country in the world."

Schuler also said, "This is an opportunity for a new beginning, we can go forward with confidence. Our nation is at peace. No young Americans are at war anywhere around the world."

He also said, "We must rededicate ourselves to the principals upon which this country was founded."

"I ask all of us to join hands and go into the 1980s with firm resolve to continue with great dedication and resolve and bear testimony that patriotism is still alive," the mayor concluded.

Capt. Robert Klass of the Granite City Army Installation, was the main speaker at the outdoor event. He told the crowd, "We must defend freedom only to those who live it and are always ready to guard and defend it."

Capt. Klass honored the released hostages from Iran, saying, "Only a week ago was our nation able to do courageous things that enabled 52 of our fellow countrymen to be released from 14 months of captivity in a strange and hostile land. Though we rejoice in their release, we must never forget the eight brave men who sacrificed their lives in the April attempt to extract the hostages from their captors."

"In light of past events, the question we ponder now is, 'Could this country successfully counter a Soviet military thrust, no matter what the cost?' The answer depends upon the state of our military forces," the captain said.

He quoted George Washington, saying, "If we desire peace, it must be known that we are at all times ready for war."

Capt. Klass also honored the 760,000 full-time American soldiers stationed around the world and the more than half a million reserve members and guardmen. "These people make up the total Army"—full-time soldiers and the citizen soldiers. They serve for many reasons.

"Some serve for material benefits. Many others serve for reasons and rewards that are harder to quantify, such as patriotism, duty and honor," the captain said.

He urged the country to support its military and encouraged young men and women to consider serving in the Army for "the honor of preserving freedom."

The rally was opened and closed with prayer by the Rev. Louis Frick of Niedringhaus Methodist Church, who said we should be thankful we have the opportunity to gather "to support our great nation."

After the rally, McColligan said he wanted to thank all those who helped in organizing the rally, including the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Bowler Trucking, the Crossroads Plaza Merchants, Fornaszewski Music and Vollman Advertising Co., which designed a Thumbs Up America logo and provided the back of the flared stage used for the rally.

McColligan said he has the copyright for the Thumbs Up America logo, but he is not attempting to make a profit on it, he just wants to see it promoted nationwide to help keep alive the enthusiasm of patriotism over the release of the hostages.

He stressed that any local bank, business or organization wishing to make use of the Thumbs Up America theme or logo is welcome to do so free and he will be happy to help in any way he can see that the idea is spread.

McColligan said he hopes to hold more rallies in the near future and feature guest speakers who will impart a positive feeling of patriotism to the audiences. "I want to keep this feeling alive. I do not want to see it die," McColligan concluded.

THUMBS UP AMERICA was the theme of a patriotic rally in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center parking lot Thursday afternoon, a day declared by President Ronald Reagan for celebration over the return of the former Iranian hostages to America. A crowd estimated at more than 150 persons braved cold temperatures and winds to listen to the speakers and to raise their thumbs high for patriotism. The Thumbs Up cheer was led by Fred McColligan, whose thumb is shown at the upper left.

Chouteau discusses clean-up campaign

A review of the rental program of the Chouteau Township Hall was discussed by the Chouteau Town Board of Trustees at a meeting held last week with the board agreeing to allow a Cub Pack to use the facility for its annual Blue and Gold Banquet in February.

Town Clerk Patricia Polley said that there are about 50 to 60 applications for the EOC energy program.

A concession was also held on the clean-up campaign to be sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce set for April 25

Income limits for supplemental food

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has set maximum income limits for people who participate in the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children (WIC).

Previously, each state set its own income limits and no limits were prescribed by the USDA.

Under the final rules, states must set a maximum gross income limit for a family of four that is no higher than $1,494 in 1980 and $1,460 in 1981. The maximum income is determined by calculating 195 percent of the official U.S. government poverty line, plus a current standard deduction of per month.

The Omnibus Reconciliation Act, passed in December, established this as the maximum income limit for the WIC program. The minimum income limit is equal to the poverty line.

Laclede Steel reducing costs

State agencies will be allowed to use state or local income eligibility standards as the income limits for their WIC programs, as long as they do not exceed or fall below the USDA limits.

Previously, each state intended to allow participating health clinics to use the same income standards for WIC that they use in health care programs they may operate for low-income families and infants and children. This is intended to foster administrative efficiency and reduce paperwork, a spokesman said.

The WIC program provides supplemental food, nutrition, education and health care to 2.2 million low-income women, infants and children up to age five, determined to be at risk because of income limitation or inadequate health care.

Women participating in the program must be pregnant or breastfeeding or must have recently given birth.

Stronger defense is goal

A call for a stronger national defense was voiced here last week by Lieutenant General Thomas M. Ryan Jr., vice commander in chief of the U.S. Military Airlift Command and Senior Air Force Base, Belleville.

Introduced by Jim Livingston, program chairman at the Granite City Rotarians, General Ryan urged higher pay to retain skilled Defense Department personnel and called for the provision of long-range combat aircraft to augment available missiles.

While the U.S. has large air fleets and also contracts to use part of the civilian passenger and freight aircraft, the nation has less than half of the planes it would need to move men and materiel around the world, the spokesman warned.

Airlift command functions were listed as including the deployment of military units to all parts of the world, resupply duties, movement of rangers, paratroops and special forces, medical

Terminate medical plan ... city may self-insure

Plans by Granite City to self-insure health and major medical coverages for all employees and city officials have been speeded up as the result of notification by the current insurance carrier that it intends to terminate the city's coverage March 1.

Granite City Insurance Co. told the city council by letter at the last council meeting that the claims experience on the city policy last year would justify a "drastic" increase in rates, which would not be acceptable to the city, according to the letter.

Therefore, the letter concludes, Golden Rule declines to continue being the group insurance carrier, effective March 1.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the council that the issue being studied by the city's finance committee and suggested the matter be referred to that committee, headed by Alderman Paul Ray Bowler.

Bowler was not present at the council meeting, but told the Press-Record

Friday that he believes the city can save between 25 to 30 percent of the approximately $470,000 annual premium it now pays to Golden Rule by one of three options.

One would be to obtain coverage through another carrier, the second would be to self-insure and the third would be a combination of both.

"By March 1, the city will have an insurance program we believe will be better than the present coverage," Bowler predicted.

He said his committee is attempting to have a package ready for the city council to consider the third Tuesday of February, and hopefully to pass the last Tuesday of the month, four days before Golden Rule's coverage ends.

Mayor Schuler said he believes Golden Rule could be persuaded to continue the city's coverage for a short time after the March 1 deadline, if the city encounters problems in formulating an alternate program.

Schuler said he and his administrative aide, David Nolan, have been working with the finance committee on self-insurance and believes "the city can save large amounts of money by self-insuring."

"I believe there is no doubt we could save money. Just like self-insurance on workers' compensation saved us at least $50,000 a year, and perhaps more," the mayor added.

He said two different proposals from the city's insurance broker now are under consideration.

Even if the city decides to self-insure the employees' health and major medical coverage, it would need a policy protecting it from catastrophic claims such as a multi-million dollar settlement, he said.

Bowler stressed that the city still is accepting proposals from insurance companies and any firm which would like to submit a proposal should do so as soon as possible.

Circle begins bazaar plans

Each member of the Every Member Busy Circle United Methodist Church is to bring new ideas and instructions for preparing craft items to be offered at the annual bazaar, to the next meeting in the home of Mrs. Betty West.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Janie Patton with Mrs. Lois Holshouser presiding at the session.

Mrs. Dorothy Luckett was the lesson leader. "The Parables," followed by a collection for the Least Coin.

The monthly United Methodist Women's meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m., Mrs. Holshouser presiding.

Contributions were collected for a layette to be donated to the Church Women United project.

Closing prayer was by Mrs. Luckett. The bestowal of certificates was made to Alta Stewart and to Alma Briner.

The Hillsens also have four grandchildren, Jill and Tom Kinder and Nathan and Ben Rowland.

Georganne Georgeff has succeeded Mrs. Hillen as Wilson School secretary.

Mrs. Vivian Hillen retires

A series of gala events honored Mrs. Vivian Hillen upon her retirement last month as secretary at Wilson School.

Launching the activities was a holiday breakfast, planned and hosted by Wilson Parent Teacher Association.

At the event, the parents presented Mrs. Hillen with an engraved silver tray and memory books containing personal notes from nearly every student at Wilson School.

Vivian Oram, Learning Center teacher, was responsible for the collection and editing of the books.

Mrs. Hillen also was honored at a festive luncheon for family and friends given in the lobby of Wilson School Principal Ted Vrenick and Mrs. Jean Ann Vrenick.

Vrenick and Mrs. Hillen have worked together since Wilson School opened in 1959. Gifts and tributes were presented the honoree at the luncheon.

Family members, teachers and friends from other schools in the Granite City School District and members of the city office staff were guests at an elegant tea, hosted by the Wilson School faculty in the teacher's lounge, also honoring the retiree.

A silver tea and coffee set were presented to the guest of honor and "Vivian," a song written especially for the occasion, was sung by Metella Mason, accompanied by Karen Tucker.

Music during the tea was provided by Mary Kay Rogers.

Among the out-of-town guests at the faculty event were Marilyn St. Pierre, a former resource teacher at Wilson, now a resident of Narragansett, Rhode Island, and Carol Skinner, former Learning Center teacher.

At the event, the parents presented Mrs. Hillen with an engraved silver tray and memory books containing personal notes from nearly every student at Wilson School.

The show is of art students at Granite City High School and included an art show and a silent auction.

There were six silent auction items, including one to Rob Chapman, the son of Ralph and Linda Chapman, 1737 Pritchard Ave., for his pencil work creation, "Friends."

Others contributing works were Anita Cloninger, the daughter of Dean and Janice Cloninger, 625 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, a ceramic artist.

Hot Edwardsville catches Madison

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The Edwardsville High School gym was filled to capacity. It was standing room only. Usually, only a Collinsville-Edwardsville game draws that many spectators. On Saturday, the best small school power in the area, the Madison Trojans, took on a very strong Class AA Edwardsville Tiger team. It was a classic.

Bruce Dickmann's pair of free throws with two seconds left in the contest gave the Tigers (18-3) a 64-63 victory over Madison. It extended Edwardsville's winning streak to 10 games in a row. The longest for the Tigers since the 1973-74 season. The current streak includes victories over Class A powers Cairo, Okawville, Benton and Pinckneyville in the Benton Tournament — and now Madison.

Whereas Edwardsville's winning streak stopped there, Tigers were stopped after 14 straight wins. And for Madison head coach Larry Graham, it was the first close ball game in a while. It could have been a problem for the Trojans.

"I think they (Madison) thought the game was over," said Graham. "We haven't had enough like this to see how we play in a tight ball game."

The Trojans had no intention of dropping the ball. The Madison defense played a big role in keeping up a comfortable early margin. It looked like the Trojans were going to go into the second half with a free throw lead. It kept them in the ball game as they hit 19 out of 20 attempts. But, for 3:23 the Tigers couldn't find the hoop in the second frame as Madison rolled off 11 unanswered points and a 37-23 lead.

The score was enough to indicate that the entire first half belonged to the Trojans. They hand-rebounded the ball, they had a 10 point lead and they pointed. Edwardsville's big gun, Paul Schaefer, from scoring. If not for Dickmann's 15 first half points, the Tigers might have been hurtling.

Edwardsville never gave up on the big man, though. Patience paid off and the Tigers finally got Schaefer into their offense. "They (Madison) had us confused," said Tiger head coach Bud Vallino. "They would mix up their man and zone defenses. We adjusted to it in the second half and knew we should score inside."

Schaefer went to work and changed the complexion of the game. It wasn't until the 3:50 mark of the third period that he converted his first points, but from then, it was all Edwardsville.

With 1:45 seconds left in the third quarter, Schaefer drilled in his tenth point of the period and brought the Tigers to within one. "They (Madison) got the ball and confidence picked up," said Graham. "I felt we kind of gave the game away. Even though we offered, they didn't have to take it."

Edwardsville's big man, though. Patience paid off and the Tigers finally got Schaefer into their offense. "They (Madison) had us confused," said Tiger head coach Bud Vallino. "They would mix up their man and zone defenses. We adjusted to it in the

should score inside."

Where the Trojans were so deadly in the first half from the free throw, it was from there they had their down fall. Had they been able to put Madison up by four with 17 seconds left, but missed one and Stanley had the opportunity to increase the Trojans lead to five and missed. This happened with just 11 seconds on the clock.

Last year, Stanley made three types of free throws," said Graham. "He didn't choke, he just missed."

Madison still connected on 21 out of 25 from the charity stripe for an 84 percent. Hatter, though, right out of 10 of those three, led Madison with 13 points and seven rebounds. Dickmann's final two charity losses pushed his game total to 21 as he led the Tigers.

"He showed a lot of character from us (Edwardsville) to come back," said Vallino. "I don't care how much they are down, they'll never give up. But Madison is a very good team. They are the toughest small school we have played in the last 10 years."

"I hope we're not happy with ourselves," said Graham. "I don't want us to be. You win some and lose some. If we're a championship team, we'll come back."

Fernandez is named Parade All-America

GRANITE CITY — As reported last month by the Press-Record, Granite City South's David Fernandez was named to the 1981 Parade Magazine All-American team. The team was announced in yesterday's Parade Magazine, featured in the Sunday editions of newspapers all over the United States.

Fernandez, who was also named to the 1980 United States Soccer Coaches Association All-American Team and made last season's Parade Team, was voted the fourth-best forward in the country.

Fernandez was drafted in December by the San Diego

Fernandez, a senior, led Granite City South to four straight state championships during his career at the school. The player may have been the sweetest for him. In addition to winning the state championship, Fernandez's team also won the championship of the prestigious Catholic Youth Organization tournament in St. Louis and defeated the eventual Missouri state champion (Vianney 1-0) and the eventual Indiana state champion (Evansville Reitz 3-1).

Fernandez was drafted by Pat Baker of Riverview

Sockers of the North American Soccer League. While he has not yet an official contract, it is expected that Fernandez will not turn professional at this point, but opt for one of the hundreds of colleges that have expressed interest in recruiting him. According to sources, Fernandez has received college choices from three schools, the names of which have not been learned.

The 5-8 Fernandez wasn't the only area player picked to the Parade All-American Team. Leading the pack was Pat Baker of Riverview Gardens, who was voted the best goalie in the country and appears headed for a career at the University of Louisville. He is the son of Fernandez's high school coach, Gene Baker.

Other St. Louis area players chosen were Dan Malloy of Hazelwood Central, Dave Bazzell of St. Louis Prep, Chris Hundert of Rosary, Mike Menendez of Vianney, and Daryl Dornan of C.B.C. and Dan Altepetz and Roy Stanley of St. Louis University High. Also named to the squad was Bill Veith of Evansville, Ind. Reitz.

Shells pull surprise; draw with North

ROXANA — Returning to dual competition would have thought to be a welcome relief for the Granite City North wrestling team. After all, the Steelers do hold an under-the-edge in that category. So, they took on Roxana and Cahokia here Saturday.

The Shells have been the number one ranked area team in the P.R. P.A. for the last month now and they gave North all it could handle. The Steelers had to struggle for a 26-26 tie with Roxana, but it remained unbroken by defeating Cahokia, 35-21.

The tone for most of the North's matches this season has usually been set in the weight classes. With no recorded team losses, the Steelers most always got off on the right foot. The Shells intended to change all that.

"Everyone expected the first two bouts to be tough," said North head coach Walt Whitaker. "Greg Nemeth found out how tough it was."

At the 98 pound bout, Nemeth was pinned by Rob Milazzo in the second period. It was a fitting way to start for Roxana.

The victor is the son of Shell's head coach Larry Milazzo. "I expected Nemeth to lose, but not by a pin," said Whitaker.

The Steelers were 1-1 in the first period with Mike Robinson at 105 lost a close decision, 2-1, to Rob Warren. "It paid off early," said Whitaker. "But, Granite City South was beat by Roxana in the same two weights last week and came back."

Well, North took notice and started its own comeback. Greg Nemeth pinned his opponent, Mike Plummer at 112, 13-3.

The onslaught continued when Steve Smith pinned Brad Ruden at the end of the second period and then shifted into overdrive.

Rod Unger recorded a 4-0 shutout over Bob Moser at 126 and Glenn Thompson blanked Kurt Schaefer at 109. But all those things had to come to an end and North lost the next four of six bouts.

The crushing blow occurred when Jim Wyrostenko mauled by Dan Hollis at 185, 12-0. It forced the Steelers into a do or die situation at the heavyweight bout. The others are just not doing the job. It's really distressing. We have to get to work or lag behind, because we have South coming up and then the district tournament."

The Steelers got a good working at the expense of the Cahokia Comanches. Nemeth still had his troubles as he lost to Vince Sharkey, 5-4. Tom Thompson emerged an earlier season loss to Bob McDaniels by drawing a 4-4 tie at 105.

Miller continued to look awesome by beating Phil Smith, 10-3. 12-2. Smith finished the day with a rest as he took a forfeit win at 119. Under recorded his second shutout of the day, 9-0, over Jim Schaefer at 126.

Thompson had a 5-3 win over a 9-3 victory at 132 over Don Mardrosian. Gibson took a pin against Tim York at 138, but brother Mike made up for it as he beat Brian Coey, 10-2. 13-3. Scott Coret was handed a forfeit win at 155 as Patton was pinned again at 167 by Tim DeBourge. Wyrostenko came through with a 10-3 over Greg Taylor and Owens lost for the second time this season to Keith Cruise. He was pinned in the first stanza at the heavyweight bout.

The word was hot for McManus from the opening period as he finished in a season-high 30 points. It just wasn't enough to hold off the Crusaders.

Althoff sent up a counter-attack with Steve Hill.

Missing only one shot, Hill rocked only 24 seconds

from the start.

McManus' effort was

for naught as he lost to the Crusaders for the first time and they held on to the half. South scored just nine tallies in the period.

"We were playing a different style than we did

Wednesday," said Nemeth.

Wyrostenko was forced to play catch-up with the Crusaders and never caught them, as they lost a Gateway East Conference game 79-74.

South had two bouts to contend with. Althoff had enough energy, but it had to combat the flu. It had already struck Joe Schnefke, who gave up his starting position to Tom Tracy and was pinned in a few other weight classes.

"I don't want to use the flu

as an excuse," said South head coach Don Deterding.

"It just seems like the intensity wasn't there."

The Warriors were managing to win both the wars and threatened to blow the game wide open.

McManus sizzled from the floor as he fired in his first two takedowns. South was holding tough, too. It reeled out two sireks of 10 and eight unanswered points to take a commanding 26-13

first quarter lead.

Just as easily as South put up the points, so did Althoff.

The Warriors did a complete

Tiger's preparation paid off. The 21st in the first half was cut to five in the second 16 minutes as he fouled out in the fourth quarter. In fact, it was Hughes' fifth foul that sent Dickmann to the line for the Tigers. In the remaining minutes, Hughes totaled 17 seconds points for Madison.

In the home stretch, though, it was the combination of Dickmann and Schaefer that propelled the Tigers to within one. "They (Madison) got the ball and confidence picked up," said Graham. "I felt we kind of gave the game away. Even though we offered, they didn't have to take it."

Edwardsville never gave up on the big man, though. Patience paid off and the Tigers finally got Schaefer into their offense. "They (Madison) had us confused," said Tiger head coach Bud Vallino. "They would mix up their man and zone defenses. We adjusted to it in the

should score inside."

Where the Trojans were so deadly in the first half from the free throw, it was from there they had their down fall. Had they been able to put Madison up by four with 17 seconds left, but missed one and Stanley had the opportunity to increase the Trojans lead to five and missed. This happened with just 11 seconds on the clock.

Last year, Stanley made three types of free throws," said Graham. "He didn't choke, he just missed."

Madison still connected on 21 out of 25 from the charity stripe for an 84 percent. Hatter, though, right out of 10 of those three, led Madison with 13 points and seven rebounds. Dickmann's final two charity losses pushed his game total to 21 as he led the Tigers.

"He showed a lot of character from us (Edwardsville) to come back," said Vallino. "I don't care how much they are down, they'll never give up. But Madison is a very good team. They are the toughest small school we have played

"I hope we're not happy with ourselves," said Graham. "I don't want us to be. You win some and lose some. If we're a championship team, we'll come back."

Althoff overcomes McManus, Warriors

By TOM SCHOCKER

BELLEVILLE — Kevin McManus is the type of basketball player that South's forward on the Granite City South basketball team just goes out and does his job. But, every once in a while, he lets loose. Like the performance he gave against the Crusaders for the first time and they held on to the half. South scored just nine tallies in the period.

McManus' effort was the highlight of the night as he finished in a season-high 30 points. It just wasn't enough to hold off the Crusaders.

Landscape school enrollment open

By RONALD E. CORNWELL
Extension Farm Adviser
Enrollment is now open for any interested in attending a landscape school which will start March 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension office, Edwardsville.

The landscape school will be a series of five classes taught over the University of Illinois telenet system by Floyd Giles, U of I Horticulturist specialist.

The five meetings cover March 9—Landscape Design; March 16—Creating a Design; March 23—Smaller Landscape Plants; March 30—Larger Landscape Plants; and April 6—Putting Plants in the Design.

The objective of the landscape school is to provide you the necessary information and background in the area of landscaping, to enable you to develop your own landscape plan. A package of educational materials will be provided at each landscape session.

Advanced registration for the landscape school is necessary. Registration fee for the five classes is $25. Because of limited space, registration will be limited to 20. To register for the school, send your name, address and a check for $25 to: Madison County Extension Office, Box 427, P.O. Box 111, Edwardsville 62025. The deadline for registration is Feb. 20.

For additional information on the landscape school, call the extension office at 656-8400.

6,233 full-time students

With 9,051 students attending classes at SIUE during the current quarter, compared to 8,811 at the same time last year, the most significant increase is in the number of students taking courses at the university for the first time, Edelmann said.

There are 657 new freshmen, transfer and graduate students at the campus, a 15 percent increase over last winter, the assistant admissions director said.

A slight increase has been noted in both categories of full-time and part-time students, with the largest increase occurring among part-time students.

There are 6,233 full-time students at the university, along with 2,818 students attending part-time.

The Graduate School experienced the biggest increase among the disciplines, with an enrollment of 1,613 during the current winter quarter, compared to 1,460 in the

The fourth step is to have a written timber sales agreement with the buyer. This is very important to avoid problems later. A copy of a timber sales agreement can be obtained from the district forester.

Following these four steps in selling timber, you should insure yourself of receiving a fair price for your timber.

The rate of property crime in rural Illinois is approaching the rate found in some of the Chicago area counties, according to Babes, U of I rural sociologist.

There is a complicated collection of reasons behind the rural crime rate rise. One of the more critical is the depopulation of rural areas, (2) easier access to rural areas from urban areas, (3) leaving doors unlocked, (4) limited amount of law enforcement personnel to cover such large areas, (5) geographic isolation of rural areas, (6) growing affluence of rural residents and (7) use of increasingly expensive equipment and other materials on the farm.

In 1980, the average younger had 3½ hours of personal contact with an adult every day. Today, the figure is closer to 14½ hours per day.

The event is Friday, Feb. 13, at the Lindendale Park.

Plan pancake supper Mar. 8

The Band parent's Association of Granite City South held its monthly meeting, conducted by President Lou Passig, to discuss money-making projects to benefit the marching band.

Mrs. Rosalie Bunte presented plans for a pancake and sausage dinner to be held Sunday, March 8, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Tickets will sell for $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. Members of the committee are George H. Mrs. Doris Butts and Mrs. Margaret Miller.

The South Stage Band under the direction of Joe Owens will present a concert Thursday, Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the South Auditorium.

The next regular meeting of the Band Parents will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 7:30 in the South Band Room. All parents and guardians and band members are invited to attend.

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record
Perhaps due in part to the frustrations of Iran's attack on the oilfields of the American economy, inflation and the loss of local jobs, crime in the Granite City rose last year, particularly crimes of violence.

Statistics released in the 1980 annual report of the Granite City Police Department, show that overall, there was a three percent climb in the number of violent crimes in the city during the year, when compared to 1979. However, murder rose 66 percent and assault cases went up 45 percent, according to the report.

Murders were five in 1980, all cleared by arrest. This compares to three murders and two arrests during 1979, according to the annual compilation.

Assault cases climbed from 312 during 1979 to 453 last year, a 45 percent increase. Also showing increases were burglary, which were five in 1980, all cleared by arrest. This compares to three murders and two arrests during 1979, according to the annual compilation.

The purpose of the evening is to give all volunteer scout leaders and parents in addition to any friend of scouting an opportunity to come together for fun and fellowship.

The proceeds from the evening will be used to support the scouting program.

The cost is $6 per person which includes chicken and other refreshments.

Tickets may be obtained at the Boy Scout Service Center, 2016 Delmar Ave.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Bob Bastilla at the First National Bank of Highland 1-654-2331 or the local scout office 876-6966.

CHILI SUPPER

Members of Boy Scout Troop 96, sponsored by the Maryville School PTA, are busy selling tickets for their chili supper. The event will be from 4 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13, in the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

The proceeds from the event will be used to purchase new tents for the troop.

Crime in city rises up nine percent from 519 to 570, and larceny, up fractionally, from 1,035 to 1,038 cases.

Shoplifting decreases, however, were rape, down 12 percent from eight cases in 1979 to seven last year; robbery, down seven percent from 27 to 25; and theft, down 10 percent from 185 to 171 cases last year, and auto burglary, down one percent, from 386 cases to 382.

Arrests for major crimes rose 14 percent during 1980 over the previous year, as 875 persons were charged in major cases, up from 768 in 1979. The number of cases cleared by arrest during 1980 was 761.

The good news was that the 55 mph speed limit continued decreasing traffic fatalities. Two persons lost their lives in vehicle accidents during 1980 in Granite City, a 71 percent drop from the seven traffic fatalities in 1979.

There were 453 persons injured in accidents reported to the police department last year, down 21 percent from the 574 persons injured in accidents reported in 1979. The total number of accidents reported during the year, 1,553, was 19 percent below the 1,932 accidents reported in 1979.

Three thousand four hundred and nine persons were charged with traffic offenses in Granite City last year, a four percent increase over the 3,636 charged in 1979. Arrests for non-traffic offenses totaled 1,649 last year, an 11 percent drop from the 1,849 arrests in that category in the previous year.

With more than one charged against some of those arrested, a total of 5,988 charges were filed by the Granite City police in 1980, a 10 percent drop from the 6,224 charges police filed in 1979.

The number of complaints police answered declined from 23,373 in 1979 to 21,099 last year, according to the report.
